Dr. Spencer's Steam Dental Establishment.
There is no dentist in the country who has met with more complete success in his profession than Dr. Geo. F. Spencer, proprietor of the Steam Dental Establishment, No. 254 Penn street. The Doctor's fame as a skillful and artistic practitioner is not only well known at home but fully appreciated abroad, his patrons embracing residents from all parts of this country and Canada. Among the large list of persons who have patronized the establishment within the past few weeks were Mr. John English, of Toronto, Canada, Mr. J. W. Wallace, of St. Louis, Mo., and Mr. A. Patterson, of Nebraska. These gentlemen having incidentally acquired a knowledge of Dr. Spencer's proficiency in his profession, visited this city with the exclusive object of having the Doctor operate upon their teeth, and so fully satisfied were they with the skillful manner in which the work was performed that they requested him to use their names for reference. This compliment is appreciated by the Doctor, who, although a complete master of the art which he has adopted, takes a just pride in having his services so freely appreciated.

Reduction in Dentistry.
Dr. C. Sill, 246 Penn street, who is doing the most extensive business in Pittsburgh, since he is relieved of the Government tax as a manufacturer, concludes to give the public the benefit of it. His book shows that an immense amount of business has been done during the last year, and owing to the fact of the low prices charged for his skill, the high degree of which no one of his profession, nor any other, dare speak against in his praise, his income does not exhibit any show of extortionate rates, and to the truth of this his patrons are willing to testify. On the contrary, if it was not for the immensity of business done at this establishment, the expenses accruing from assistance, and the elaborate manner in which his establishment is furnished with all the improvements of the age, his outlay would ruin him in less than a half a year. The usual manner of his competitors in saying what their income has been during the last year, with a view of showing an unequaled prosperity, is a fine exhibition of the great profits they have on their teeth over his, arising from the difference in price.
Drs. Sill & Gilie pledge all their goods in the dental line at Eastern prices, and have every variety of shade and quality, varying in prices from seven dollars to forty per sett. Dr. Sill's place of business has been most favorably known for the last seven years in Pittsburgh. He was the first to manufacture the vulcanized plate, and also to give the laughing gas, which has become so popular through this section of country. As gentlemen of skill, Drs. C. Sill and M. E. Gillespie are not surpassed in the United States; and added to this the kindness man fested to their patrons, and the hundreds of dollars worth of work which goes every year to persons who are unable to pay for it, and for which no charge is made, these gentlemen may be truly regarded as benefactors of mankind. There is no other such establishment in Pittsburgh. He charges fifty cents for extracting one tooth under laughing gas, and when artificial teeth are to be inserted he makes no charge whatever for extracting.

The Paris Exposition of 1867.
It is very evident from all we can learn, that our country is to be well represented in the coming Exhibition in France, commencing in April and ending in October. Among the very many valuable mechanical inventions we hear of to be on exhibition is the justly celebrated "Improved Excelsior Brick Press" of our fellow-citizen, Mr. Isaac Gregg, for which sixty feet square has been secured in the "Park," and five by ten feet in the "Palace" of the Exposition; the space in the former being for a full size press complete, and in operation, making brick, and room for kiln for burning the brick, and the space in the Palace is for model and samples of brick.
Among a number of these machines now being built at the large machine works of Messrs. Neade & Levy, in this city, is one for this purpose, which is to be highly elaborated and beautifully finished; and the model is being made by Mr. J. B. Smith, Second and Ross streets, which is also to be highly ornamental and designed of mahogany, box and ebony woods, and silver mounted, with glass hopper, and operated by a crank attachment or clock-work when wound up.
We predict that this will be not only one of the finest displays of mechanical genius and skill on the occasion referred to, but we doubt if an invention can be found there to compare with this one in point of utility, from the fact of large sums of money having been invested in various extensive and successful brick works now in regular operation in this country, employing this machine, and for which patents have been secured all over Europe, and a company has just been formed by Messrs. Gregg & sons for the European territory, from among our leading capitalists.—Phila. Inquirer.
A photograph of the Excelsior Press can be seen at the Monongahela House, the headquarters of parties who are about locating an extensive Brick Works in this locality, who intend operating similar machines to the one referred to in the above article.

The Daily Commercial

Crosby Art Association.

A rumor was circulated and published that the Crosby Opera House Scheme, of Chicago, was a failure, owing to the small amount of tickets sold. Mr. Crosby and his friends deny this, and assert that $300,000 worth of tickets have already been disposed of, and that the prospects for success were never fairer. Mr. Nickerson, President of the First National Bank, Chicago, has become pecuniarily responsible for the distribution of the premiums, or the repayment of the money of every shareholder, if the distribution does not take place, and his pecuniary responsibility is vouched for in a card signed by a number of the most respectable and leading citizens of Chicago.

American Exportations.

The exportation of the Steinway pianos has grown largely in the direction of Europe, Mexico, the West Indies and South American States, to Messrs. Steinway & Sons, more than to any other firm, is due the credit of having, while developing their peculiar branch of industry to an extent wholly unprecedented, provided the professed musician and the amateur student of art with a means at once alluring and efficient for stimulating musical progress in every direction. Prosperity has constantly attended on their prudent foresight and enterprise; and the accumulation of capital in their hands has enabled them to promote, in the most direct manner, the welfare of native art, while conserving a business standing eminently honorable to themselves and the city which they have, with architectural taste, embellished.
The next generation of Americans will be a race of pianists. The instrument is better understood and appreciated in the United States now than in Europe, and we have long enjoyed a monopoly of superior pianos.

PHILADELPHIA.—The Telegraph speaks encouragingly of the opening fall trade in Philadelphia. From every indication, there will be a heavy trade. It says: In dry goods especially, there appears to be a very large stock in hand. For the past few months there has been a heavy importation, and large quantities manufactured by our home factories, and there not being a large demand by the jobbers and retailers, the supply has accumulated. Owing to this fact prices, as a general thing, average lower than the same time last year; in most cases from ten to twenty per cent. in the wholesaling.

AN "IMPENDING CRISIS" AT ROME.—A letter from Rome in the Independence asserts that the Pope has declared to his cardinals the necessity of giving up to France all authority in the city, in view of an "expected crisis." This is understood to look to the death of the Pope and the inability of his government, except with French aid, to preserve order during the election of his successor. Such an arrangement would be equivalent to a guaranty to the French Emperor of the nomination of the next Pope.

A JAPANESE RACE.—The Japan Times gives an account of the annual races at Yokohama. A large number of horses ran. The race course was crowded. Amongst the occupiers of the grand stand were a number of Japanese nobles. All kinds of vehicles were met with on the road, and in going to and from the race course there were several vehicles upset, but no very serious damage resulted. There were thirteen prizes run for, among which were the Celestial Cup, the Japan Cup, and the Yokohama Plate.

—The Right Hon. Mr. Gladstone and Lord Clarence Paget, will visit Rome and the Mediterranean this fall.

After Collector Smyth.

It is understood that a strong New York influence is being brought to bear to secure the removal of Collector Smyth of that port. It is said that the course pursued by Mr. Smyth since his appointment fails to satisfy, politically, the leading supporters of the President, and it is claimed is not calculated to sustain and advance the success of the President's policy as it should, and representations to that effect have been made to the President. In this connection it is known that the presence of leading conservative political managers from New York here this week, and their conferences with the President, was in regard to this, among other important political matters. No action will be taken by the President in the matter until after his return from Chicago.

THE PARIS EXPOSITION.

Applications for Space—Deficiencies.

WASHINGTON, August 24.—Much misunderstanding about admissions to the Paris Exposition, seems to exist among some of the authorities of several States. Positively no articles will be entered or received at the Exhibition, except those for which applications shall have been duly filed with, and accepted by the general agent at New York city, J. C. Derby, Times Building, No. 40 Park Row. All applications, therefore, should be promptly forwarded to him, as he is required to have the descriptive catalogue ready by the 15th of next month. Although the present list of applications promises an excellent exhibition in several groups, it is deficient in a few important particulars, such as rich furnishing, upholstery and decorative work, chrystals and rich potteries, carpets, wall papers, cutlery, bronzes, &c., cotton and its products, wool and its products, fleeces of wool, shawls of wool, hosiery, &c., plans and models of rural buildings, fertilizing substances, apparatus and instruments for hunting, fishing, and for collecting natural products; cereals, wines and fermented drinks.

The National Labor Convention—Strikes Deprecated.

BALTIMORE, August 24.—the Committee on Resolutions reported in favor of the eight hour system, of extending support to only such journals as are favorable to the interests of labor, hailing with delight the formation of the organization of co operative stores and work shops, opposing prison labor unless paid for at the same rate as to outside mechanics, pledging support to sewing women, favoring the speedy restoration of the agricultural interests in the Southern States, asking capitalists to erect tenement houses and improved dwellings, asserting that the whole public domain should be disposed of to actual settlers, deprecating strikes, urging the formation of mechanics' institutes and lyceums, and recommending workingmen pressed by want of employment to become actual settlers upon public lands. The report was adopted. The several officers elect were installed, and Congress adjourned.

PRAGUE, Friday, August 24, A. M.—The most perfect concord exists among the plenipotentiaries assembled here, and a treaty of peace, though not signed, may be regarded as accomplished.

PRUSSIA.

Treaty of Peace Between Prussia, Bavaria and Darmstadt.

BERLIN, PRUSSIA, August 22.—The Prussian Commissioners have, with the sanction of the Government, concluded a peace with Bavaria and Hesse Darmstadt. The terms are very advantageous to Prussia, and in accord with her original demand, Bavaria cedes to Prussia the northern district, composed of Leichtenfels, formally called Upper Franconia, and the walled town of Culmnbach. The Bavarian Government also undertakes to pay to Prussia thirty millions of florins as an indemnity for her expense in the war. Hesse Darmstadt cedes to Prussia the territory of the Langravate of Hesse Hamburg, a State which was admitted a member of the Confederation of the Rhine in the year 1817, and lies directly between Rhenish Bavaria, Rhenish Prussia and Birkenfeldt. Prussia also obtains the exclusive right to garrison the fortress of Mayence, for which duty Hesse Darmstadt hitherto contributed two hundred infantry, besides giving three hundred and thirty-three men to the Federal German army under the treaty. Bavaria retains the territory of Upper Hesse, which will be joined to and incorporated with the new Confederation of Northern Germany, the organization and limits of which will be arranged after the peace treaty is perfected between Prussia and Austria.

Demands of the Mexican Empress Rejected.

PARIS, FRIDAY, August 24, P. M.—It is reasserted that the Emperor Napoleon has finally rejected the demands of the Empress of Mexico for assistance to quell the insurgents. Reception to Gov. Eyre.

LONDON, August 22.—Ex-Gov. Eyre, of Jamaica, whose official conduct during the late negro revolt on that Island, has been made the subject of such an excited and angry canvass at home, enjoyed a public reception at Southampton yesterday. The fete was given in his honor by his immediate friends, personal and political, and the municipal authorities took no part in it. There was a banquet in the evening. A large opposition meeting was held in the same town the same day, at which a series of resolutions, condemning the conduct and rule of the Ex-Governor when in Jamaica, were adopted with great unanimity.

APPEAL.

Southern Loyalists to their Northern Friends.

Invitation to the 3d of September Meeting.

NEW YORK, August 24.—The following appeal from Southern loyalists is published in the Post:
To the Loyal Hearts of the Nation:
Ninety years ago our fathers proclaimed a new theory of government, founded on protection to the rights of the citizen. On the 3d of September next it is proposed to hold a grand mass meeting in the shades of Independence Hall, in the city of Philadelphia, to reassert the doctrines of our ancestors. All who believe with our fathers that the Constitutional rights of the citizen are the first and paramount object of Republican Government, are cordially invited to attend. The three hundred thousand Union defenders from the South who stood in the ranks of the Union army, send greeting to the brave veterans of the North. Through our representative delegates to the Convention of the Southern Unionists we send a hearty invitation to our comrades in a common cause to meet us on this spot made sacred to liberty. Come one, come all! Come in the uniform of blue! Come as you came to the South on the great mission to relieve it from the despotism of usurping traitors! Come as you came when you caused the hearts of the depressed Unionists to leap with joy at the reappearance of the old flag, upheld by strong hands and brave deeds! Let the Unionists of the North and South come together, and renew the pledge to sustain liberty, order and law. Editors are respectfully requested to assist in giving this invitation an extended circulation.
By order of the Committee of Arrangements for the Convention of Southern Unionists.

THE CHOLERA.

NEW YORK, August 24.—The reports of yesterday show a marked abatement of cholera in this city: but six cases and five deaths were reported. In Brooklyn the decrease also continues.
NEW YORK, August 24, 6 P. M.—Six cases and two deaths from cholera were reported in the city to-day, and seven cases and three deaths in Brooklyn.
ST. LOUIS, August 24.—Thirteen cemeteries report one hundred and thirteen deaths from cholera on Wednesday. Six cemeteries only reported yesterday, giving fifty-two cholera deaths. The city hospital reports twelve cholera deaths yesterday. Fifteen cemeteries failed to report.
MEMPHIS, August 24.—Five cases of cholera were reported to-day, one of which was fatal.

TELEGRAPHIC POLITICAL.

NEW JERSEY.

PHILADELPHIA, August 24.—John M. Scovill, Speaker of the New Jersey State Senate, whose action prevented the election of a Republican United States Senator, last winter, has written a letter to the Evening Telegraph, in which he reiterates his approval of the Constitutional amendments passed by the last Congress, and says, "I propose at the extra session of the Legislature, if such session is called, to do my duty as a Republican upon all questions which may arise, first satisfying my own conscience, then gratifying my constituents and friends."

THE GALLOWS.

Covert, the Murderer of the Roosa Family, Hung.

CINCINNATI, August 24.—Samuel Covert, the murderer of the Roosa family, was hung at Lebanon, Ohio, at noon to-day. He declared himself innocent.

Daring Robbery at Mt. Pleasant, Ohio.

The Wheeling Register, of Friday, says:—We learned yesterday that a daring robbery had been committed at Mt. Pleasant, Ohio, on Wednesday night. An old gentleman, whose name we were unable to learn, had sold his farm on Wednesday for twenty-seven hundred dollars, cash. He took the money home and put it away, intending to make use of it yesterday. Early yesterday morning he discovered that his house had been entered, and that his money had been stolen. He made the fact of the theft known to the town authorities, and they immediately went to work to ferret out the thief. During the morning it was found that John Brooks, a notorious character, was missing from his home, and suspicion immediately fell upon him. A description of Brooks was sent to the police authorities of this city, and they were on the alert all day. Yesterday afternoon Brooks returned to his home in Mount Pleasant, when he was seized by a number of citizens, who threatened to kill him if he did not return the stolen money to its owner. Brooks declared that he knew nothing of the money, and that he had not heard anything of the robbery. A rope was then placed about Brooks' neck, and he was notified to prepare for death if he did not give up the money. Again he disavowed any knowledge of the money or theft. He was hung up for a few moments, when he told the crowd that he had nothing to do with the robbery, but that certain other parties, who he named, had stolen the money. He was again elevated from the ground, and upon being lowered, he adhered to his first story, and declared he knew nothing of the money. He was handed over to the authorities, who placed him, and the men he had implicated in the robbery, in jail to await trial. At last accounts the money had not been recovered.

The Parliament Gunpowder Plot.

In the London Times of a late date we find an account of the discovery of gunpowder in the English Houses of Parliament—the first news of which came to us by the Atlantic Cable, and was discredited by many newspapers. The Times says:
"At three o'clock on Monday morning a somewhat startling discovery was made by the police on duty at the Houses of Parliament. A brown paper parcel was found, and what is called a slow match attached to it. On examination the parcel was found to contain five pounds of fine gunpowder, done up in nine smaller parcels. A piece of string was tied several times round the parcel and round the match, and it is supposed that the whole was thrown over the wall with the fuse lighted. The string had been itself used as a fuse, and was burnt to the point at the edge of the parcel. The exact spot at which the powder was thrown is about fifteen paces from the Little Abingdon side of the Victoria Tower. At this spot the wall is nine feet high, and it is supposed that the person who committed this foolish and mischievous trick must have stood upon the steps of a public house at the extreme end of the wall. The powder, even if it had exploded, could not have done any harm to the Houses of Parliament beyond breaking a few windows."

GENERAL LEW WALLACE.—It is rumored that complaint has been made of a violation of our pledged neutrality in permitting, without rebuke, the departure and arrival in Mexico, of a party of "filibusters," under General Wallace. Whether the rumor is true or false, it cannot be said that the Government was neglectful in its duty in the premises, as the vessel which conveyed Wallace and his guns was ordered to be closely examined prior to her departure, and was afterward pronounced "all right." It now appears, however—at least so report says—that she was loaded to the brim with both arms and ammunition; and further, that the officers who pretended to "examine" her were fully cognizant of the fact. If this be so, the Government may be, to a certain extent, responsible for her escape, though not directly so.

Last Sunday, while the Rev. Dr. Rice, of the Presbyterian church of Newark, New Jersey, was engaged in baptising a little three years old, a single drop of water stole slowly down the child's cheek, and was ready to drop upon the floor, when the little one made an impulsive effort as if to wipe it away, and the falling drop was caught upon the back of her chubby hand. Speaking "right out in the meeting," as the tiny hand was stretched toward mamma, she exclaimed, "See, mamma, see! If dot 'e baptise, an' I doin to take it home to dolly."

THE NEW COTTON CROP.—A leading New York circular, speaking of the new cotton crop, says: "The accounts by mail this week are not so favorable. The telegraph report from Mobile is also less promising. We shall, of course, receive conflicting accounts for some weeks, but no estimates are yet to be relied upon. Those current here are in excess of any we receive from the South. It will not be until November that even an approximate guess can be made.

THE MANUFACTURES OF PITTSBURGH.

INTERESTING STATISTICS.

In the Quarterly Trade Circular of George H. Thurston, for the quarter ending August, 1866, there is a very interesting article, exhibiting the quantity and value of those articles of Pittsburgh manufactures that are subject to internal taxation, which have been returned as sold, from September, 1863, to March, 1866. Mr. Thurston in a preface to these tables says:
The exhibit it will be seen is divided into two sections. One division presents the amount upon which taxes were paid for the period of eighteen months up to March, 1865, and the other for one distinct year from March, 1865, to March, 1866. It will occasion some query that the eighteen months previous to 1865, show but a very small valuation over the amount embraced in the succeeding twelve months. A partial explanation of this might be sought in the probability that, there has been in manufacturers' hands during a portion of 1863, considerable amounts of made up stock, exempted from tax, as manufactured previous to the taking effect of the Internal Revenue Act, and consequently not returnable when sold. Most probably the true explanation is found in the fact that throughout the whole country the aggregate returns show a steady and wonderful increase in the amount of American manufactured goods sold for 1863, 1864, 1865, and some illustrative statistics will not be misplaced here.
In 1863 the amount of tax collected on articles manufactured in the United States was $21,403,091. In 1864 the amount collected was $75,461,278, in 1865, $104,379,609 56.
The increase in 1864 over 1863 is not a fair exhibit of increase, for as before observed the amount of tax for 1863 was curtailed by the stocks on hand exempt from taxation. From 1864 when there were no stocks of exempted goods, to 1865, the increase it will be seen in the amount collected in the whole county is about forty per cent. When it was noted that the increase was parallel with the advance in the price of gold, thereby enhancing the cost in the United States of all foreign manufactured articles, and consequently stimulating the production of and consumption of home products, the explanation of why Pittsburgh for twelve months from March, 1865, returns more manufactured articles sold than in the previous eighteen, is apparent. Our manufacturers enjoyed the home market, protected by the high price of gold against foreign competition, and the Government benefitted to the extent of over twenty-eight millions in the whole country from the same cause in the taxes upon manufactured articles alone. This manufacturing prosperity, seems to have had its effect, upon all sources of revenue from internal taxation, forcibly illustrating that to make prosperous the manufacturing interests of the country is to benefit all others. For 1864 there was collected from all specific sources of Internal Revenue $117,145,748 52, and in 1865, $211,129,529 17, or nearly eighty per cent. increase. That this increase is mainly the result of business prosperity and not more rigid taxation is shown, throughout the classifications of taxations. For instance, the amount collected for 1864 on dividends was $7,017,547 03, while in 1865 it was $14,385,606 63, an increase of quite one hundred per cent. In 1864 the amount collected from incomes was $14,353,362 32, and in 1865, $20,740,151 33, an increase of nearly forty per cent., not to include $28,929,312 02 of special income tax also collected. From salaries in 1864 was collected $1,705,124 63, and in 1865, $2,826,333 37, an increase of nearly seventy per cent. From stamps in 1864 the Government obtained $5,894,905 11, and in 1865, $11,162,392 14, or nearly one hundred per cent. of an increase. The gross receipts of railroads in 1864 paid a tax of $2,127,249 69, and in 1865, $5,917,298 51, or an increase of one hundred and seventy-five per cent. Although the previous items show the sympathy of prosperity running hand in hand in all the items given, and which are selected as being especially indicative of business prosperity; yet the large increase in the gross receipts of railroads, from the very fact that they of all other items wane or increase with business, is the most convincing that with a wonderful increase of manufacturing prosperity, all other occupations prospered, and the Government reaped a rich harvest. Is this fact not well worthy of much consideration?
But to return to the especial exhibit of Pittsburgh manufactures. From these statistics, which being compiled from the actual returns to assessors are, excepting clerical errors, correct, it appears that there was sold in the year from March 1865 to March 1866, of articles subject to tax alone $64,312,157, the amount remaining on hands of the manufacture of that period, was certainly not less than 25 per cent., which would make the amount of manufactures in Pittsburgh subject to tax in a year of $80,460,596. This amount would be largely increased by a similar statement of the sales and manufacture of articles made at Pittsburgh not subject to tax. For those articles there is no such reliable source from which to obtain their amount and value, but it is most probable that they would swell the amount of the manufactures of Pittsburgh for the year specified to one hundred millions. If to that should be added the value of the coal trade of the city we should have a sum not far from $110,000,000 as the aggregate of the manufacturing and mining business of Pittsburgh, exclusive of the returns and valuation of such manufacturing and mining interests as are held by our capitalists, in enterprises in other States.
The greatest valuation, it will be noticed, is in articles of iron and steel, among which bar, plate and sheet is the leading item. Castings are the next, and nails the next. Manufactures from mineral and earthly substances, come next in importance. Of this class oil is the leading item and glass the next. Products of animals take the next rank, and textile fabrics the next. The recapitulation shows at a glance the relative importance of the various divisions, and likewise that the manufactures of Pittsburgh are divided into eleven distinct groups, containing over one hundred and seventy classes of goods, many of which embrace in themselves a score of different articles.
Without giving the enumeration of the various articles in the tables, compiled by Mr. Thurston, we recapitulate the whole as follows:

	Total value of articles subject to tax, sold from Sept. 1863, to March, 1865.	From March, 1865 to March, 1866.

THE NEW ORLEANS MASSACRE.

The Official Correspondence.

On Whom Rests the Responsibility?

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.
WASHINGTON, D. C., August 24, 1866.

The entire official correspondence in relation to the riot at New Orleans has been furnished by the President for publication. It is very voluminous, making six columns of the National Republican. A portion of this correspondence has already been published. The following are Gen. Sheridan's dispatches in the order received:

The following telegram was received at 6:15 P. M., August 1st, 1866, from NEW ORLEANS, LA., August 1, 1866.
To U. S. Grant:
GENERAL: You are doubtless aware of the serious riot which occurred in this city on the 30th. A political body, styling itself the Convention of 1864, met on the 30th, for, as it is alleged, the purpose of remodeling the present Constitution of the State. The leaders were political agitators and revolutionary men, and the action of the Convention was liable to produce a disturbance of the peace.
I had made up my mind to arrest the said men if the proceedings of the Convention were calculated to disturb the tranquility of the department, but I had no cause for action until they committed the overt act. In the meantime, official duties called me to Texas, and the Mayor of the city, during my absence, suppressed the Convention by the police force, and in so doing attacked the members of the Convention, and a party of two hundred negroes, with fire-arms, clubs and knives, in a manner so unnecessary and atrocious as to compel me to say it was murder. About forty whites and blacks were thus killed, and about one hundred and sixty wounded. Everything is now quiet, but I deem it best to maintain a military supremacy in the city for a few days, until the affair is fully investigated. I believe the sentiment of the general community is great regret at this unnecessary cruelty, and that the police could have made any arrest they saw fit without sacrificing lives.

The following telegram was received at 6 P. M., August 2, 1866, from New Orleans, La., August 2, 1866:
To U. S. Grant, General, Washington, D. C.:
The more information I obtain of the affair of the 30th, in this city, the more revolting it becomes. It was no riot; it was an absolute massacre by the police, which was not excelled in murderous cruelty by that of Fort Pillow. It was a murder which the mayor and police of the city perpetrated without the shadow of a necessity. Furthermore, I believe it was premeditated, and every indication points to this. I recommend the removing of this bad man. I believe it would be hailed with the sincerest gratification by two-thirds of the population of the city. There has been a feeling of insecurity on the part of the people here on account of this man, which is now so much increased that the safety of life and property does not rest with the civil authorities, but with the military. [Signed]
P. H. SHERIDAN, Major General.

The following telegram was received at 10 P. M., August 3, 1866, from New Orleans, La., August 3, 1866:
To U. S. Grant, General, Washington, D. C.:
I have the honor to report quiet in the city, but considerable excitement in the public mind. There is no interference on the part of the military with the civil government, which performs its duties without hindrance. I have permitted the retention of the military governor appointed during my absence, as it gives confidence and enables the military to know what is occurring in the city. He does not interfere with civil matters, unless good judgment is exercised. There will be an exodus of Northern capital and Union men which will be injurious to the city, and to the whole country. I will remove the military Governor in a day or two. I again strongly advise that some disposition be made to change the present Mayor, as I believe it would do more to restore confidence than anything that could be done. If the present Governor could be changed also it would not be amiss. [Signed,] P. H. SHERIDAN, Major General Commanding.

OFFICE U. S. MILITARY TELEGRAPH, HEADQUARTERS WAR DEPARTMENT.

The following cypher telegram was received at 1:30 P. M., August 6th, 1866, from New Orleans, August 6th, 12 M.:
To His Excellency Andrew Johnson, President of the United States:
I have the honor to make the following reply to your dispatch of August 4th: A very large number of the colored people marched in procession on Friday night, July 27, and were addressed from the steps of the City Hall by Dr. Dostie, ex-Governor Hahn, and others. The speech of Dostie was intemperate in language and in sentiment. The speeches of the others, so far as I can learn, were characterised by moderation. I have not given you the words of Dostie's speech, as the version published was denied, but from what I have learned of the man I believe they were intemperate. The Convention assembled at twelve o'clock on the 30th, the timid members absenting themselves because the tone of the public was ominous of trouble. I think there were but about twenty-six members present. In front of the Mechanics Institute, where the meeting was held, there was assembled some colored men, women and children, perhaps eighteen or twenty, and in the Institute a number of colored men, probably one hundred and fifty. Among those outside and inside there might have been a pistol in the possession of every tenth man. About one o'clock, P. M., a procession of say from sixty to one hundred and thirty colored men marched up Burgundy street, and across Canal street to the convention, carrying an American flag. These men had about one pistol to every ten men, canes and clubs in addition. While crossing Canal street a row occurred. There were many spectators on the street, and their manner and tone towards the procession was unfriendly. A shot was fired, by whom I am not able to state, but I believe it to have been by a policeman or some colored men in the procession. On their arrival at the front of the Institute, there was some throwing of brick bats by both sides. The police, who had been held well in hand, were vigorously marched to the scene of disorder. The procession entered the Institute with the flag, about six or eight remaining outside. A row occurred between a policeman and one of these colored men, and a shot was again fired by one of the parties, which led to an indiscriminate fire on the building, through the windows, by the policemen. This had been going on for a short time, when a white flag was displayed from the windows of the Institute, whereupon the firing ceased and the police rushed into the building. From the testimony of wounded men and others who were inside the building, the policemen opened an indiscriminate fire upon the audience, until they had emptied their revolvers, when they retired, and those inside barricaded the doors. The door was broken open and the firing again commenced, when many of the colored and white people escaped through the door or were passed out by the policemen inside, but as they came out the policemen who formed the circle nearest the building fired upon them, and they were again fired upon by the citizens that formed the outer circle. Many of those wounded and taken prisoners, and others who were prisoners and not wounded, were fired upon by their captors and by citizens. The wounded were stabbed while lying on the ground, and their heads beaten with brick-bats. In the yard of the building, whither some of the colored men had escaped and partly secreted themselves, they were fired upon and killed, or wounded by policemen. Some men were killed and wounded several squares from the scene. Members of the Convention were wounded by the policemen while in their hands as prisoners, some of them mortally. The immediate cause of the terrible affair was the assembling of this Convention. The real cause was the bitter antagonistic feeling which has been growing in the community since the advent of the present Mayor, who, in the organization of police force, selected many desperate men, and some of them known murderers. People of clear views were overawed by want of confidence in the Mayor and fear of the "Thugs," many of which he had selected for his police force. I have frequently been spoken to by prominent citizens on this subject, and have heard them express fear and want of confidence in Mayor Munroe. Ever since the intimation of this last Convention movement, I must condemn the course of several of the city papers for supporting, by their articles, the bitter feeling of bad men. As to the merciless manner in which the Convention was broken up, I feel obliged to confess strong repugnance. It is useless to attempt to disguise the hostility that exists on the part of a great many here towards Northern men, and this unfortunate affair has so precipitated matters that there is now a test of what shall be the status of Northern men, whether they can live here without being in constant dread or not, whether they can be protected in life and property, and have justice in the courts. If this matter is permitted to pass over without a thorough and determined prosecution of those engaged in it, we may look out for frequent scenes of the same kind, not only here but in other places. No steps have as yet been taken by the civil authorities to arrest the citizens who were engaged in this massacre, or policemen who perpetrated such cruelties. The members of the Convention have been indicted by the Grand Jury, and many of them arrested and held to bail. As to whether the civil authorities can mete out ample justice to the guilty parties on both sides, I must say it is my opinion unequivocally they cannot. Judge Abel, whose course I have closely watched for nearly a year, I now consider one of the most dangerous men that we have here to the peace and quiet of the city. The leading men of the Convention, R. King Cutler, Hahn and others, have been political agitators, and are bad men. I regret to say that the course of Governor Wells has been vacillating, and that during the late trouble he has shown very little of the man.
[Signed] P. H. SHERIDAN, Major General Commanding.

TELEGRAM FROM NEW ORLEANS, LA., JULY 27.
To His Excellency President Johnson:
SIR: Governor Welles, in compliance with the proclamation of R. K. Howell, President pro tem., signed writs of election to fill vacancies in the Convention, and forwarded the same to the office of the Secretary of State.
[Signed] ALBERT VOORHEES, Lieutenant Governor of Louisiana.
ANDREW J. HERRON, Attorney General of Louisiana.

The war Department has received the following telegram: NEW ORLEANS, July 28, 1866.
To President Johnson:
A Radical mass meeting, composed mainly of large numbers of negroes, last night, ended in a riot. The Committee of Arrangements of said meeting assembling to-night, violent and incendiary speeches were made. Negroes were called upon to arm themselves. You were bitterly denounced by the speakers, Field, Dostie, Hawkins, Henderson, Heir, Ward, and others. Governor Wells arrived last night, but took sides with the Convention move. The whole matter is before the Grand Jury, but it is impossible to execute civil process without the certainty of a riot. It is contemplated to have the members of the Convention under process from the Circuit Court of the district. Is the military to interfere to prevent the process of the Court?
[Signed] ALBERT VOORHEES, Lieutenant Governor of Louisiana.
ANDREW J. HERRON, Attorney General of Louisiana.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28, 1866.
To Albert Voorhees, Lieutenant Governor of Louisiana, New Orleans:
The military will be expected to sustain, and not obstruct or interfere with the proceedings of the court. A dispatch on the subject of the convention was sent to Governor Wells this morning.
[Signed] ANDREW JOHNSON.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28, 1866.
To His Excellency, Gov. Wells, New Orleans:
I have been advised that you have issued a proclamation, convening the convention elected in 1864. Please inform me under and by what authority this has been done, and by what authority this convention can assume to represent the whole people of the State of Louisiana.
[Signed] ANDREW JOHNSON.

NEW ORLEANS, July 28, 1866.
To President Johnson:
Your telegram is received. I have not issued a proclamation convening the Convention of 1864. This was done by the president of that body, by virtue of a resolution adjourning the Convention subject to his order, and in that case also authorizing him to call on the proper officers to issue writs of election in unrepresented parishes. My proclamation is in reponse to that call, ordering an election on the 3d of September. As soon as the vacancies can be ascertained, an election will be held to fill them, when the entire State will be represented.
Your obedient servant.
[Signed.] J. MADISON WELLS, Governor of Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 28, 1866.
To Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War, Washington:
A Convention has been called with the sanction of Governor Wells, to meet here on Monday. The Lieutenant Governor and city authorities think it unlawful, and propose to break it up by arresting the delegates. I have given no orders on the subject, but have warned the parties that I could not countenance or permit such action without instructions to that effect from the President. Please instruct me at once by telegraph.
[Signed] A. BAIRD, Brevet Major General.

OFFICE U. S. MILITARY TELEGRAPH, HEADQUARTERS, WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, 4:10 P. M., July 30, 1866.
NEW ORLEANS, July 30, 1866.
To the President of the United States, Washington:
We are in the midst of a terrible riot, caused by the assembling of the Convention. Owing to the mixed condition of affairs among the State offices, I see no hope of quiet without you give us a military Governor. Cannot Gen. Granger be sent here?
[Signed] F. J. HERRON, Late Major General, U. S. A.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30, 1866.
To Andrew J. Herron, Attorney General of Louisiana, New Orleans:
You will call on General Sheridan, or whomsoever may be in command, for sufficient force to sustain the civil authorities in suppressing all illegal or unlawful assemblies, who usurp or assume to exercise any power or authority, without first having obtained the consent of the people of the State. If there is to be a Convention, let it be composed of delegates chosen fresh from the people of the whole State. People must be first consulted in reference to changing the organic law of the State. Usurping will not be tolerated. The law and Constitution must be sustained, and thereby peace and order.
[Signed] ANDREW JOHNSON.

NEW ORLEANS, August 30, 1866.
To President Johnson:
The Convention met. A riot broke out in the city. So far the police has the upper hand. Several white and colored persons have been killed. I called on Gen. Baird for assistance, which is cheerfully tendered. There is intense excitement. The Convention has been broken up.
[Signed] ALBERT VOORHEES, Lieutenant Governor Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, July 30, 9 P. M.
To the Secretary of War:
A serious riot has occurred here to-day. I have been in full consultation with the city authorities, and have kept my troops well in hand for such an emergency. The riot commenced unexpectedly, and before the troops could reach the scene of action, a number of persons were killed and wounded. I have felt compelled to declare martial law, and have appointed a Military Governor of the city. All is quiet now. Several prominent gentlemen connected with the Convention are killed or wounded.
[Signed] A. BAIRD, Brevet Major General.

NEW ORLEANS, July 30, 1866.
To E. M. Stanton,
SIR: I have the honor to inform you that a very serious riot has occurred here to-day. I had not been applied to by the convention for assistance, but the Lieutenant Governor and Mayor had freely consulted with me, and I was so fully convinced that it was so strongly the intent of the city authorities to preserve the peace in order to prevent military interference, that I did not regard an outbreak as a thing to be apprehended. The Lieutenant Governor had assured me that even if a writ of arrest was issued by the court, the Sheriff would not attempt to serve it without my permission, and for to-day they agreed to suspend it. I ordered a steamer to be at Jackson barracks, three miles below the city, at an early hour in the morning, and a tug to be ready to bear orders to the commanding officer of the First Infantry, stationed at that point. At 11:30 o'clock A. M., Lieutenant Governor Voorhees came to see me, and after conversation, he feeling confident at the time of the ability of the police to preserve order, I proposed to bring to the city four companies an hour in advance of the supposed meeting of the Convention at 6 o'clock P. M., to be kept near by in case they should be required to keep clear the streets in vicinity of the Hall in which the Convention was to meet. He agreed with me that it would be very desirable, but left, not apprehending difficulty. At 12 o'clock, M., I drove to Judge see Howell, the President of the Convention, to request that arrangements might be made to keep any crowd that might assemble to protect the Convention, out of the streets, so as to avoid an accidental collision. When I reached his house I learned that the Convention was to meet at 12 o'clock, and that he had gone to it. Returning to my Headquarters I soon received a letter from the Lieutenant Governor informing me that large parties of negroes were collecting from all quarters, and coming into the center of the city, yet he was not sure of his information. However, I at once sent for the troops. Very soon afterwards I learned that a riot had taken place near the Convention Hall, and I sent a staff officer to investigate the facts. On his return he reported having met Judge Howell, who said the Convention had adjourned for want of a quorum, but would meet again at 1:30 P. M. This reassured me, but I again sent to hasten the arrival of the troops. Immediately after this the riot assumed a serious character. The police, aided by citizens, became the assailants, and from the evidence, I am forced to believe exercised great brutality in making their arrests. Finally they attacked the Convention hall, and a protracted struggle ensued. The people inside of the hall gave up, some of whom surrendered and were attacked afterward, and were brutally treated. Quite a large number were injured. I cannot now say how many, Governor Hahn, Dr. Dostie, Mr. Fish, and perhaps other members of the Convention, among the number. On the arrival of the troops, I soon cleared the streets, and quiet was restored. From the evidence of bad feeling on the part of the citizens, and of sympathy with them on part of the police, I felt compelled to declare martial law in the city, and appoint a Military Governor, from which I hope good results will ensue. I enclose herewith copies of my correspondence with the Mayor, and of a dispatch which the Lieutenant Governor claims to have received from the President. I regret that no reply to my dispatch to you of Saturday has yet reached me. General Sheridan is still absent in Texas.
I remain, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant. [Signed] A. BAIRD, Brevet Major General.

NEW ORLEANS, CITY HALL, JULY 25, 1866.
To Brevet Major General Baird:
A body of men claiming to belong to the Convention of 1864, and whose avowed object is to subvert the present municipal and State governments, will, I learn, assemble in this city on Monday next. The laws and ordinances of the city, which my office makes obligatory upon me to see faithfully executed, declare all assemblies calculated to disturb the public peace and tranquility, as unlawful, and as such to be dispersed by the mayor, and the participants held responsible for violating the same. It is my intention to disperse this unlawful assembly if found within the corporate limits of the city, by arresting the members thereof, and holding them accountable to existing municipal laws, provided they meet without the sanction of the military authorities. I will esteem it a favor, General, if at your earliest convenience you will inform me whether this projected meeting has your approbation, so that I may act accordingly.
I am, General, respectfully,
JOHN T. MUNROE, Mayor.
NEW ORLEANS, July 26.

Hon. John T. Monroe:
SIR—I have received your communication of the 25th, informing me that a body of men, claiming to be members of the Convention of 1864, whose avowed object is to subvert the present municipal and State governments, is about to assemble in this city, and regarding this assemblage as one of those described in the law as calculated to disturb the public peace and tranquility, and therefore unlawful, you believe it to be your duty, and that it is your intention to disperse this unlawful assembly, if found within the corporate limits of the city, by arresting the members thereof, and holding them accountable to the existing municipal authority, provided they meet with the approbation of the military authorities. You also inquire whether this proposed meeting has my approbation so that you may act accordingly. In reply, I have the honor to state that the assemblage to which you refers has not, so far as I am aware, the sanction or approbation of any military authority for its meeting. I presume the gentlemen composing it have never asked for such authority, as the military commanders since I have been in the State have held themselves strictly aloof from all interference with political movements of the citizens of Louisiana. For my own part, I have carefully refrained from any expression of opinion on either side of many questions relating to the reconstruction of the State Government. When asked if I intended to furnish the Convention a military guard, I have replied, no, the Mayor of the city and his police will amply protect its sittings. [Signed,] A. BAIRD.

WASHINGTON, August 3, 1866.
To Maj. Gen. Sheridan, New Orleans:
Continue to enforce martial law so far as may be necessary to preserve the peace, and do not allow any of the civil authorities to act if you deem such action dangerous to the public safety. Lose no time in investigating and reporting the causes that led to the riot, and the facts which occurred.
[Signed] U. S. GRANT, General.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 4, 1866.
To Maj. Gen. Sheridan, New Orleans
We have been advised here that prior to the assembling of the illegal and extinct Convention elected in 1864, inflammatory and insurrectionary speeches were made to a mob composed of white and colored persons, urging upon them to arm and equip themselves for the purpose of protecting and sustaining the Convention, in its illegal and unauthorized proceedings, intended and calculated to upturn and supercede the existing State Government of Louisiana, which had been recognized by the Government of the United States? Further, did the mob assemble and was it armed for the purpose of sustaining the Convention in its usurpation and revolutionary proceedings; have any arms been taken from persons since the 30th ult., who were supposed or known to be connected with this mob? Have not various individuals been assaulted and shot by persons connected with this mob, without good cause and in violation of the public peace and good order? Was not the assemblage of this Convention and the gathering of the mob for its defense and protection a main cause of the riotous and unlawful proceedings of the civil authorities of New Orleans? Have steps been taken by the civil authorities to arrest and try any of those who were engaged in this riot, and those who have committed offenses in violation of law? Can ample justice be meted by the civil authorities to all offenders against the law? Will General Sheridan please furnish me a brief reply to the above inquiries, with such other information as he may be in possession of? Please answer by telegraph at your earliest convenience.
[Signed,] ANDREW JOHNSON.

The President Invited to Peoria.

Stoppage of Rations to Freedmen.

THE PRESIDENTIAL EXCURSION.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.
WASHINGTON August 24.

Invitation to the President.

Mr. W. T. Dowdall, on behalf of the Masonic fraternity, and the citizens of Peoria, Illinois, to-day presented an invitation to the President to extend his trip to Peoria, to participate in laying the corner stone of the soldier's monument to be erected in that place. The President replied that nothing could afford him more pleasure than to visit the beautiful city of Peoria and participate with her people in paying respect to the memory of the brave boys who fell while gallantly fighting for our common country; that if in his power, and he thought it would be, he would most gladly accept the kind invitation.

Appointments.

The following appointments have been made to-day: Internal Revenue—Wm. E. Schofield, Assessor, Eighth District, Ohio; Alfred Dupreer, Collector, Second District, Louisiana; Wm. H. Purnell, Assessor, Third District, Maryland; Matthew B. Freer, Assessor, Twenty third District, New York. Customs—Thos. Dumont, Surveyor, Quincy, Illinois; L. C. Hunt, Collector, Miami, Ohio.
The President to-day signed the commission of General John L. Swift, as naval officer of the port of Boston, Massachusetts.

General Howard

Has furnished for publication a letter contradicting the statement of some papers, that the President originated the order for the stoppage of the issuing by Freedmen's Bureau of rations to freedmen and refugees in the South after October 1st, and stating that the order was issued in pursuance of an understanding between Secretary Stanton and himself.

New York Naval Officer.

There is no truth in the statement in Washington correspondence that Col. Wm. H. Ludlow had been appointed Naval Officer at New York. On the contrary, it is known that no appointment to that office will be made at present.

The Excursion.

It has been decided that it will not be advisable for all members of the Cabinet to leave Washington with the President. Upon consultation to-day it has been decided that Secretaries Seward and Welles, and Postmaster General Randall and their families accompany him, and the other heads of departments remain to look after the public business during their absence. Senator and Mrs. Patterson will also go. In addition to these the President has invited a number of his friends to participate in the excursion, and the party, which will comprise from fifty to seventy-five persons, will leave here on Tuesday morning.

WASHINGTON, August 24.

THE INDIAN COMMISSION.

Last year $51,000 were set apart to pay the expenses of the commission sent to hold conferences and negotiate with the Indian tribes west of the Arkansas. The commission was absent two months, and had interviews with the representatives of 75,000 Indians. It was composed of Commissioner of the Indian Bureau Cooley, Superintendent Sells, Gen. Harvey, Col. Parker, Thomas Wister and Charles E. Mix, the last being chief clerk of the Indian Bureau. The accounts have just been settled, from which it appears that all the expenses, including presents to the Indians, amounted to only about $10,000, an extraordinary low figure considering the circumstances connected with the important mission.

APPLICATIONS FOR ADDITIONAL BOUNTY.

Judging by the great number of claims that are daily received at the office of the Paymaster General, those who believe themselves to be entitled to the bounty allowance under the act of July 28th, 1866, entertain the impression that much will be gained by securing the entrance of their claims to file in the office at the first possible day. This is an error. The wise and the prudent among the claimants will defer remitting their claims and papers to the authorities until they learn the nature and requirements of the regulations which are to govern the payments of these claims. These regulations may materially affect the character and forms of application, in which case the last claims received will most probably be the first settled, while those already on file may need to be returned for necessary changes. Nothing is gained to the claimants, but on the contrary much time may be lost, and the examination, &c, upon claims may be greatly hindered by over-haste in submitting them for file.

APPOINTMENTS.

The following appointments were made to-day by the President. James H. Anderson, Collector of the Eighth District of Ohio; S. G. Hicks, Assessor of the First District of Illinois; Asa Faulkner, Collector of the Third District of Tennessee; Henry E. Murray, Collector of the Fourteenth District of Ohio; Thomas H. Benton, Assessor of the Sixth District of Iowa; George S. Cooper, Assessor of the Fourth District of Michigan; General Cyrus O. Loomis, Assessor of the Second District of Michigan; J. Crocket Sayers, Assessor of the Sixth District of Kentucky; Isaac D. Jones, Postmaster at Fairfield, Iowa; Martin L. Morton, Postmaster at Grass Valley, California; Charles Case, Postmaster at Waukegan, Illinois; Martin Boyd, Postmaster at Springfield, Missouri; Capt. Schofield, Assessor of the Eighth District of Ohio.

THE EXPOSITION.

Congress has provided free transportation to Paris for goods and show cases in which to exhibit goods at the exposition, as well as competent officers and guards to take care of them.

THE ROLL OF HONOR.

Quartermaster General Meigs has published, by authority of the Secretary of War, the names of soldiers who died in defense of the American Union, interred in the National cemeteries at Fortress Monroe and Hampton, Virginia. It is the intention of the officers on duty at the fort to erect a monument to the memory of the deceased. The Quartermaster General has also published the roll of honor, or names of those whose remains are interred in the Eastern District of Texas, Rio Grande District, Department of Texas, Capms Ford, Tyler, Texas, and Corpus Christi, Texas. Scattered as these places are over a large extent of territory, it was not considered advisable to disinter the remains and remove them to a central cemetery.

GOING TO CHICAGO.

Major General Meade and the Mexican Minister will be of the excursion party to Chicago.

NO COUNTERFEIT FIVES.

The prevalent reports that counterfeit five dollar National Bank notes are in circulation are untrue. There are no counterfeits of this description.

ORATORS FOR CLEVELAND.

In addition to the list of orators published in to-day's paper, to speak at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention at Cleveland, a large number of other gentlemen have accepted similar invitations. Their names will soon be given to the public.

Two officers interfered, when the fight became general, Captain Patterson, one of the officers, receiving three balls through his clothing. Officer Sayers received a severe wound from the butt of a pistol. An investigation will be held to-day.
A fire broke out this morning in the locality known as smoky row, and destroyed seven or eight wooden buildings. Loss considerable.

Tennessee Crop Reports.

MEMPHIS, August 24.—Reports of the crops in the interior are very unfavorable. The want of rain is severely felt. The corn crop will generally be a failure. The weather is unusually cool. Thermometer 70°.

DETROIT, MICH., August 24.—In the Pharmaceutical Convention, several amendments to the constitution were passed. A committee was appointed on internal revenue tax, with instructions to confer with the Commissioner. The next annual meeting will be held in New York. A communication from the Austrian College of Pharmacy asking samples of American fruits, was referred to the New York College. A motion was adopted providing for the representation of this society at the International Pharmaceutical Convention at Paris next year. A large amount of important business was transacted. Adjourned sine die. This afternoon the members enjoyed an excursion on Lake Erie.
A terrible murder was committed near Lansing, Michigan, to-day. A negro named named Taylor killed the wife and daughter of John Buck. Taylor was followed and arrested.
It is announced that Colonel Henry Barnes has been appointed Postmaster of Detroit.

Several cargoes of coolies have arrived.

CITY MATTERS.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—Coroner Clawson held an inquest yesterday morning on the body of John Beck, who was killed at the Superior Iron Works, in McClure township, on Friday night. Messrs. Graff, Bennett & Co., the proprietors of the works, are grading a switch from their works to the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad, and the deceased, while working under the trestle work, was struck on the head by a large stone, which rolled from a gravel car, crushing in his skull near the juncture of the brain with the spinal column. The injured man was removed to the Marine Hospital, where he died in about three hours afterwards. The deceased was a laboring man, and leaves a wife and four children, who reside on Allegheny avenue, in the Second ward, Allegheny.

ANOTHER CHARGE OF PERJURY.—Henry Hershhauser yesterday made another information before Alderman Strain, of the Tenth ward, charging Adolphus Froger with perjury. Both parties are residents of Collins township. The prosecutor in his information alleges that on the 1st inst., defendant "did falsely, willingly, knowingly and corruptly testify in a certain suit, pending before Justice Thomas Davidson, of that township, in which the prosecutor was plaintiff and Adolph Froger defendant, the said testimony being material to the suit at issue." Froger was arrested and held in the sum of one thousand dollars bail for a hearing on Tuesday next.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.—Yesterday, in the United States Circuit Court, Hon. Wilson McCandless on the bench. Mr. Mentier presented a petition from John Kohlbecker, asking for a writ of habeas corpus. The petition sets forth that the petititoner was enlisted into the United States Army by Major William L. Smith, but at the time of said enlistment he was intoxicated and the enlistment was therefore void. He therefore prayed that a writ of habeas corpus be issued against Major Smith, directing him to have the petitioner brought into Court, and show cause why he should not be discharged. The Court granted the writ and made it returnable this morning.

TARENTUM CAMP MEETING.—The annual camp meeting at the grounds of the Methodist Episcopal Church, situated about five miles north of Tarentum, commenced on Thursday, and will continue during next week. The attendance is larger than it has been for several years, and a large number of additional cottages have been erected. The religious exercises were opened on Thursday evening by Rev. W. W. Long, who delivered an impressive and eloquent sermon. It is expected that a large number of persons will leave for the meeting to-day, as the Trustees of the grounds have made arrangements with the Allegheny Valley Railroad not to run trains on Sunday.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Yesterday morning about ten o'clock, as a train on the Allegheny Valley Railroad was passing the outer depot, in Lawrenceville, a man attempted to get upon the platform of one of the cars, when his foot slipped and he fell upon the track. The engineer of the train happened to notice the accident, and succeeded in stopping the engine before it had proceeded more than a few yards. The man was then extricated from his perilous position, when it was ascertained that he had only been slightly injured. His escape from instant death was miraculous.

REPUBLICAN RALLY AT IRWIN'S STATION.—A grand rally of the Union Republicans of Westmoreland county, will be held at Irwin's Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, twenty miles from this city, on Monday evening next. The following gentlemen are expected to be present and address the meeting: Hon. John Covode, Westmoreland county; Colonel Thos. M. Bayne, Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., Major A. M. Brown, of Pittsburgh, and others.

PETTY THIEVING.—A day or two since the dwelling of Dr. Kern, on Penn street, was entered, and two coats stolen from the front office while the family were at dinner. One of the coats was new and valuable, while the other was a linen sack. Several families residing on Penn street, have been robbed of sundry articles during the past week by these sneak thieves, who in every case have succeeded in escaping detection.

BEFORE ALDERMAN MORROW.—J. B. Williams, Assistant Health Officer, made an information yesterday before Alderman E. S. Morrow, against Mrs. Robinson, charging her with nuisance. Mrs. Robinson lives in an attic on the corner of Wayne and Fayette streets. The alleged nuisance consisted in the defendant allowing the carcasses of nine dead "pups" to remain in the attic. A warrant for the arrest of the accused was issued.

BASE BALL.—A match game of base ball was announced to take place on Thursday afternoon, between the first nines of the Hygeia Club, of this city, and the Lincoln, of Allegheny, on the grounds of the latter, on West Common, Allegheny, but owing to the inclemency of the weather the match was postponed until Tuesday afternoon next.

PERSONAL.—Mr. William Henderson, the proprietor of the Pittsburgh Theatre, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon, from Cape May, where he and Mrs. Ettie Henderson have been passing the summer. Mr. Henderson will reopen the Pittsburgh Theatre, which is being materially altered and improved, on the first proximo.

COMMITTED FINALLY.—Yesterday morning, Messrs. Marshall and Swartzwelder, counsel for John Willich, charged with the murder of Hamilton Murphy, appeared before Mayor McCarthy, and waived a hearing, when a final commitment was lodged against him. The accused will be tried at the ensuing term of the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

CRICKET MATCH.—A match game of cricket will be played on Monday, on the West Common, Allegheny, between the Olympic and Exchange Clubs of this city. Both clubs have been practicing for the past week, and an excellent contest may be anticipated.

TAKEN TO MEADVILLE.—Franz Mitchell, the German who was arrested on Thursday, on a charge of stealing a coat from a resident of Meadville, left yesterday for that city in the custody of officer Busha, of the Mayor's police.

PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL FOR THE Political Campaign.

The political campaign in which the electors of Pennsylvania are engaged is the most momentous in our political history—paralleled only by the military campaign which ended in the overthrow of the rebel armies. From recent startling indications it is evident that, although its military power was overthrown, the rebellion itself was not suppressed. The conflict has been renewed at the ballot-box—and happy will it be for our land if it be confined to the peaceful means placed in the hands of every elector.

The revolutionary attitude of the President, and the combinations that are forming in his support, are well calculated to excite the gravest fears and create alarm where before there was confidence in the future peace and prosperity of our rescued country. The issue no less now than when the armies of the Union and Rebellion were marshaled on the bloody field, involves the future of the Republic. On the vigilance of the loyal masses who supported the Government throughout the conflict, depends the question whether the fruits of that conflict and of the victory shall be lost or preserved.

The COMMERCIAL will fully and earnestly discuss the questions of the day, and through its ample columns will spread before the public a vast amount of carefully prepared matter, besides speeches of distinguished speakers, and documents bearing directly on the questions involved in the issue. The present circulation is unequalled and constantly increasing. The Daily issue reaches the business community of an extensive district, and the Weekly Edition has an extensive circulation among the masses. It is by the dissemination of intelligence only that the triumph of the good cause will be assured. To this end the COMMERCIAL will be furnished for the campaign at the following rates:

WITHDRAWAL OF MR. ROSS.

It will be seen from the following card, that Mr. JOSEPH ROSS declines to accept the nomination on the Democratic-Johnson ticket for Sheriff. Those who have long known Mr. ROSS as a straight-forward Republican and nothing else, expected but this from him,—and in promptly declining this nomination he has shown himself worthy of the high confidence he has always enjoyed in his party:

PITTSBURGH, August 23, 1866.

To the Chairman of the National Union Executive Committee:

SIR: My name has been placed on your ticket for the office of Sheriff and ratified by the late Democratic County Convention. Permit me to say, after a careful and due deliberation, that I hereby most respectfully decline the nomination. The political associations and principles heretofore held and carried out by me forbides that I should now place myself in a false position before the people of Allegheny county.

Thanking you kindly for any token of honor you may have conferred on me, I am yours, &c.,
Respectfully, JOSEPH ROSS.

THE NEW CRISIS.

The sudden growth in arrogance by the Southern press, which no doubt truly represents the new expectations and the intentions born of the Philadelphia Convention, is both remarkable and alarming. No longer does it study its words or manifest the apparent submission which at one time marked the demeanor of the South, but the old spirit of arrogance. Having made sure of the President, and believing the time is not far off when, through the combinations whereof the Philadelphia Convention was the means and the starting-point, the old swagger and imperiousness of manner are once more assumed. One would suppose that, so far from having been guilty of a monstrous crime, they were victims of great hardships, suffering under wrongs, the redressing of which had been so long postponed that they were justified in preferring their demands in the strongest language, and even in threatening to revolutionize the Government. We say a reader of the Southern press would be led to suppose as much as this, did he not know that this air of injured innocence proceeded from the quarter where rests the guilt—guilt not expiated—of the late rebellion.

In former issues we have spread before our readers the proof of this new-born spirit, on the part of the Southern press and people. They have seen how by degrees, not slow, however, has been this growth in magisterial conceit, and how and by what ways the point has been approached—nay reached—for laying hold of the Government they could not destroy for the purpose of controlling it. So far as the President is concerned, it has, for the time being, been delivered into their hands, and will be permanently transferred to them, unless they who fought the war through stand firm in the new crisis.

In the tone of the Southern press we have not only an accurate mirroring of the Southern heart, but that which alone should be enough to prompt every loyal man in the land to do his whole duty. That which was deemed lost when the rebel armies surrendered, the South, with high expectations, are striving to achieve in another way. The proof is perfect that JEFFERSON DAVIS is as much loved now as ever he was, and that the regret for the failure of the rebellion is as strong as ever. It is totally impossible that, with this sentiment still fresh and deeply rooted in the Southern heart, the South should have any other purpose than the redemption of the "lost cause." In the quotation made below, from the Richmond Times, no longer bating its breath, but speaking as by right, and as if it were the organ, as, to a certain extent, it doubtless is, of the whole South—and at the same time confident in the newly acquired power over the President—it will be seen all the old love for JEFFERSON DAVIS remains, and that so far from conceding the rebellion was a wrong, or a mistake even, it is maintained the wicked attempt to destroy the Government and overthrow the Republic, was but a "WAR FOR INDEPENDENCE!" We will not attempt to point out the startling character of the sentiments of the article which follows, and which, doubtless, too faithfully expresses the spirit, the hopes, and the intentions of the South in the present crisis. We ask only to have it read. Let any loyal man read it, and then say, if he can, he is prepared, any more than when the war was raging hottest, to recede a single hair's breadth. The duties of that hour are no less the duties of the present. We only ask that the loyal man shall read:

[From the Richmond Times, August 22.]

"In one most important respect the President's last 'Peace Proclamation' greatly disappoints us. The measure of Andrew Johnson's magnanimity and justice to the defeated section is yet dwarfed and its symmetry impaired by his failure to issue a proclamation of amnesty, or of free and full pardon to all the prominent Confederate officials who participated in the late WAR FOR INDEPENDENCE. As long as a PURE, UNSELFISH, NOBLE, CHRISTIAN HERO, STATESMAN AND SOLDIER LIKE EX-PRESIDENT DAVIS is immured in a dreary prison, and subjected to the insults of a COARSE BRUTE-like Miles, and left to the tender mercies of a JUDICIAL RUFFIAN who has declared that he 'could pack a jury which would convict Jefferson Davis,' the President will not occupy, in the eyes of Christendom, the elevated position which he is entitled to fill.

"And if that NOBLE OLD CONFEDERATE EAGLE dies in the clutches of the 'mousing owl,' whose slow but systematic torture has driven him to the verge of the grave, history will not assign to Andrew Johnson the proud niche which we would gladly see him occupy. If he wishes to be remembered through all ages as one of the wisest as well as one of the most humane of rulers, he should unlock the prison gates and restore to liberty the UNFORTUNATE ex-President of the late Confederate States. To us the proclamations of the President that the war is at an end—that the authority of the law is now supreme, and that the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus is restored, sounds like hollow and deceptive mockeries, while Underwood declares that we still have a prisoner of war immured at Fortress Monroe by order of the President. How can we believe that our liberties have been restored and that we have been restored to all our constitutional rights, guaranties and securities against illegal arrests and imprisonments, when all resort to the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus is denied to the 'prisoner of war,' to whose daily and nightly torture an officer of the army of the United States has devoted all of his time and cruel and wicked energies since the month of May, 1865.

"But Ex-President Davis is not the only unfortunate and honest Southern patriot whose fate still hangs upon the will of President Johnson. From the benefits of his famous amnesty proclamation of May, 1865, he expressly excluded a very large number of the wisest, best and most respected of our people. Many have been specially pardoned, but there are thousands to whom executive clemency has not yet been extended. These gentlemen have been kept for sixteen months in a state of the most painful suspense. They are completely at the mercy of Underwood, Busteed and the rest of those degraded men of whom poor Lincoln, as a 'big joke,' made Federal District Judges. They are neither safe in life, liberty or property while under the ban of Executive excommunication and outlawry. A sword of Damocles hangs over the head of each of these gentlemen, which is suspended by a thread. Among these unfortunate men are to be found the most useful, talented and energetic citizens of the South. Their capacity for usefulness is completely destroyed by the course of President Johnson. Their energies are paralyzed, for they know not at what moment a 'packed' Grand Jury may indict them, or that a greedy Marshal and a hungry District Attorney may pounce down upon their estates."

"It is highly probable that all of these gentlemen may be eventually relieved, either by the tedious process of special pardons, or by the sweeping provisions of a general amnesty. But it is not humane to play with them as a cruel cat does with a captured mouse, which is neither devoured nor set at liberty. The delay is still less excusable, as these very 'unpardoned Rebels,' as the Revolutionists delight to call them, have been invited by the President to unite with all other conservative men in putting down a most dangerous party of disunionists and traitors which has grown strong, dangerous and insolent since the collapse of the Confederacy.

"The nation is now seriously menaced, and its life placed in imminent peril, by the very men who are invoking the President 'to make treason odious' by wholesale executions and confiscations.

"The President's most bitter, merciless and unscrupulous enemies are the only persons who are pleased by his failure to grant a general amnesty. By this unfortunate delay he is playing into the hands of those who are savagely denouncing him and seeking to compass his destruction.

"The President has just placed himself at the head of a great conservative party which was organized to defeat the most strenuous disunion and revolutionary advocates of 'making treason odious.' Standing side by side, and shoulder to shoulder with the Northern Conservatives are hundreds of these leading and representative Southern men, whom the President most unwisely declines to pardon.

"Is there any justice in cordially welcoming these gentlemen into the ranks of the new Union party, while they are still treated as outlaws and Pariahs? Are these able and influential citizens expected to fight for 'the Union and the Constitution' with a halter around their necks? Is the President still uncertain about the fate of those who, true to their present allegiance, are far more faithful to the Constitution and the Government than Thaddeus Stevens and his godless crew? Our best hopes are garnered up in the success of the great Conservative party, but it cannot succeed in crushing the Radicals while the President undesignedly panders to the wolfish appetite of the Revolutionists for blood by leaving the ablest and best men of the South at their mercy.

"There is no half way house on the road to mercy and forgiveness where the 'offense' of the proscribed leaders is the 'crime' of ten millions of brave people."

"WHO SHALL GUIDE THE SHIP?"

The Philadelphia Convention is more to be blamed for what it did not do and say, than for what it did do and say. If the country had just emerged out of a fierce and vindictive political struggle, we do not know that the declaration of principles would be so much out of the way; indeed, abstractly considered, there is much in it that commends itself to our judgment. But we contend that the late rebellion was of such a monstrous character as to materially affect the former rights of the States by whom the rebellion was carried on. We take it for granted that had the rebellion been successful the relative rights of the States and people would have been radically changed, and that much legislation would have been necessary to clearly determine the nature and extent of the change. But the converse being true, and the loyal North, as the possessor of the legitimate Government, being successful in the contest, it is not unreasonable to say that important changes occurred in consequence, and that the power exists somewhere to determine their nature and extent. The truth of this proposition is admitted by all. Those who support and applaud the President, assert that the power resides in one man—the President; and those who stand by Congress, as they heroically stood by the Government in putting down treason, affirm that it resides in the representatives of the States and people in Congress assembled.

It may be that the valiant friends of the President would combat this proposition, but to what purpose? Did he not in the organization of provisional Governments in the vanquished States, impose conditions and demand and secure radical changes in their local Governments, and have not his friends indorsed his policy in the most unqualified terms? If it was right for him to compel the South to repudiate the rebel debt, and to enact a clause prohibiting slavery forever in their State Constitutions, why may he not dictate their legislation in other matters? The rebellious States acceded to the demands of the President, and are new crying themselves hoarse in his praise. And just here a most important point occurs.

Although they did as they were commanded merely that they might prepare the way to their restoration to power, what security was taken that they would not undo their work? None whatever. But still the fact remains, that changes occurred, and the President and his friends insist that he alone has power to reconcile them to the new order of things.

The question, then, is narrowed down to the point as to where the power resides to secure the fruits of our victory over armed rebellion—whether in the Executive, Legislative or Judicial branch of the Government or in two or all of them, more truly, whether the fruits shall be secured or squandered? That to the Executive alone belongs this power, is at once startling, and if true, makes him as powerful as a Dictator. And yet this is the position taken by President JOHNSON and his friends, and on which they are endeavoring to revolutionize the Government. The American people cannot and will not sanction the assumption of such a power.

We believe the power resides in the different branches of the Government acting together, but more largely in the Legislative than the others. When the war ended with the surrender of the rebel armies, the President exercised the war power to organize temporary governments for the protection of the Southern people, but this right, even if unquestioned, resided with him no longer. Congress had prepared a plan by which they could be in safety restored to their former place in the Union. All legislation must of course agree with the Constitution, and to determine whether it does so agree or not, is the province of the Judiciary.

Now, when the President exhausted the war power in the premises, he should have stopped. With the action of Congress he should have withheld his hand, and promptly executed the laws which Congress passed as he had sworn to do. But this he did not and does not do. He denies the right of Congress to legislate in the premises, and practically affirms that he alone has the right to make the law he executes. If his position be right in one matter demanding legislation, we see no reason why it should not embrace every matter and practically do away with Congress altogether.

This is the complexion of the present contest, and it admits of no qualification. Between the contesting parties there is no middle ground. As during the war there could be none who were not with the Government that were not against it, so now there can be none who are against the Congressional plan of restoration that are not in favor of allowing the rebels of the South to come back to power with the monstrous crime of the rebellion still unatoned for—without indemnity for the past or security for the future. The more Mr. JOHNSON may prate about the sufficiency of Southern loyalty, the more glaring will his falsehood and treachery appear in the light of such facts as are presented by the fearful massacre of Union men in New Orleans, and the daily acts of barbarity committed upon loyal men by the malevolent spirit of treason still plainly distinguishable all over the South.

Changes were produced by the rebellion, which must be, can only properly be, determined by Congress, and this the people know and feel, and will earnestly declare for at the approaching elections.

FORESTALLING THE BALLOT-BOX.

A great many people in this country who do not want office for themselves or for their relations, yet do want the liberty of choosing the officers with whom are to be entrusted the public interests. And they want election to be as free to others as to themselves. A cordon of military guards in the interest of one party around the polls, to prevent free voting, would be an offense to them. Such an interference has, in some cases, been alleged, and the allegation always has excited attention, whether it was true or false. There is a remarkable and universal sensitiveness on this point, because the freedom of elections is everything in a government like ours, where the vote of the people is the direct method of expressing their will, and where their will is the ruling power.

For the same reasons bribery and corruption in elections, by means of money, is reckoned so serious a crime. It appeals to base motives, which ought not to be brought into operation in so important a business, and which, according to the degree in which they operate, repress consideration of the public good and give advantage to the party or person that distributes the corrupting money. In all countries, therefore, where popular election has any place in politics, bribery is reckoned a crime, the offerer of a bribe is held infamous, and the taker of one an object of contempt. For the same reasons, the slighter influence, exerted by "treating" and keeping open houses for free entertainment, before and during election, is looked upon by good citizens with disapprobation, and has been deemed of sufficient importance to be prohibited by laws. All these things, as well as forcible or threatening interference with elections are condemned; because they prevent or tend to prevent a fair and free vote, and make them mere forms, perverted to sinister ends. The control of votes by employers or by priestly power is generally, in enlightened communities, received in the same way.

It is not easy to discover any essential difference, as to the effects intended or produced, between the corrupting influence of the measures above referred to and the method of affecting elections by the appointment and removal of officers, which is adopted at the present time. The design of this, in the present case, is not left to be inferred. It is avowed in express terms. We have been familiarized by antecedent usage, with the appointments and removals on the change of Administrations. This, in fact, has been common with all parties, ever since the corrupting precedent was established nearly forty years ago. But we are not familiar—and as a stranger it bears a sinister look—with the practice of making appointments and removals as a means of controlling pending elections.

The practice of giving and withdrawing offices after election is not the same, nor has it the same corrupting tendency, as when employed for the purpose of influencing the election beforehand. Whatever may be said of it, as a system of party rewards and punishments—and we are not its advocates in that aspect—it cannot be approved when it takes, as it manifestly does now, the character of bribe and intimidation. A file of soldiers at the polls may threaten a voter's life, the removal of him from office may deprive him of the means of living. A money bribe makes the same kind of appeal to him that the tender of a lucrative office does. Apart, therefore, from all mere party considerations, the practice recently inaugurated and now pursued, with direct and admitted design to affect the coming elections, must be regarded by every intelligent and honest citizen as bad and dangerous, in the highest degree.

Besides the directly corrupting influence on elections, so far as it affects their freedom, it is to be condemned as an indication of arbitrary and unauthorized intermeddling by the Executive of the General Government in the local affairs of the people. It is, in effect, a voice in Washington saying to the people of every election district and precinct in the country, You must elect such and such members to your Legislature, or a clean sweep of all the officers of the Government among you will be made. And, besides, the result of such a practice naturally is, to introduce into official stations not the men of best approved public character or repute, but sycophants, hangers-on, cringing dependants on power.

If this method of controlling elections is tolerated and successful, all manhood and freedom in the exercise of the high prerogative of elective franchise must fall a sacrifice to it, and the farce of ballot boxes and voting may be abolished as the next step. But the people of this country are not coming to that quite yet.

BOOT ON THE OTHER LEG.

The New York Times persists in its attempts to show that the Declaration of Principles announced by the Philadelphia Convention, is substantially the same as the Platform of the Union party agreed upon at Baltimore in 1864. To prove that such is not the case we print the first resolution of the Baltimore Convention:

Resolved, That it is the highest duty of every American citizen to maintain against all their enemies the integrity of the Union and the paramount authority of the Constitution and laws of the United States; and that, laying aside all differences of political opinion, we pledge ourselves as Union men, animated by a common sentiment, and aiming at a common object, to do everything in our power to aid the Government in quelling by force of arms the rebellion now raging against its authority, and in bringing to the punishment due to their crimes the rebels and traitors arrayed against it.

Now, the words in italics, or the substance of them, are not to be found either in the Declaration of Principles or Address of the Philadelphia Convention. To put down the rebellion and punish traitors was the pledge made at Baltimore, but neither that pledge nor anything like it can be found in the proceedings at Philadelphia.

But the Philadelphia Convention has its parallel, and Mr. RAYMOND has blindly substituted Chicago for Baltimore. That is the trouble he labors under. Here is a resolution from the Chicago Platform of 1864, and it is the one that runs in Mr. RAYMOND's mind now-a-days:

"Resolved, That the aim and object of the Democratic party is to preserve the Federal Union and the rights of the States unimpaired; and they hereby declare that they consider that the administrative usurpation of extraordinary and dangerous powers not granted by the Constitution; the subversion of the civil by military law in States not in insurrection; the arbitrary arrest, imprisonment, trial and sentence of American citizens in States where civil law exists in full force; the suppression of freedom of speech and of the press; the denial of the right of asylum; the open and avowed disregard of States rights; the employment of unusual test oaths, and the interference with and denial of the right of the people to bear arms in their defense, is calculated to prevent a restoration of the Union, and the perpetuation of a government deriving its just powers from the consent of the governed.

Of course the venom of the Democrats in 1864 was levelled at both President and Congress, but the President having sold out to them, they held another Convention at Philadelphia, and so changed the form of the above as to apply it to Congress alone. The Chicago Convention didn't demand the punishment of traitors, neither did its successor at Philadelphia. They are remarkably alike.

NEW JERSEY.—Gov. Marcus L. Ward, of New Jersey, will shortly call a special session of the Legislature of that State, to take action on the Constitutional amendment, and on such other topics as may come before it.

COUNTY MASS MEETING POSTPONED IN FAVOR OF THE CONVENTION OF SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

It will be seen by the proceedings of the Allegheny County Executive Committee, published elsewhere, that the proposed Union Mass Meeting has been indefinitely postponed. This postponement is owing to the selection of Pittsburgh for the place of meeting of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention, in support of Congress. The Chairman of the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Union, Washington City, solicited the co-operation of the Allegheny County Executive Committee on the occasion of the National Convention, and the Committee yesterday wisely decided against two demonstrations in one week, and resolved to co-operate with the Soldiers and Sailors. Such arrangements will be made as will give the greatest possible eclat to the National Convention of the "Boys in Blue." Those of our citizens who contemplated taking part in the proposed demonstration on September 27th, will be expected to contribute of their means and efforts to aid the Convention of the 24th. The County Committee have extended a cordial welcome to the Soldiers and Sailors, and all Union Republicans will see to it that the welcome be of such a character as will do credit to the cause, to the county, and to the State.

CITY HALL FOR UNION HEADQUARTERS.

The Union Executive Committee of Allegheny county have leased City Hall for Union Republican headquarters during the campaign. The Hall will be formally opened by a grand rally on Tuesday evening, when arrangements will be made for sending a delegation from this county to the Southern Loyalists' Convention at Philadelphia. Capt. C. W. BATCHELOR has been appointed a committee of arrangements on delegation to Philadelphia.

GEN. BENJAMIN F. BUTLER.

At a meeting of the Union County Committee yesterday, a letter from BENJAMIN F. BUTLER was read, announcing that he would visit Pittsburgh and address the people some time before the October election.

THE POLICY.—The main objection to the policy which is so urged by the Philadelphia convention is, that it would perpetuate a grossly unjust and unequal representation in the General Government. We want no advantage in representation, even for the most loyal States. But we do not wish to see the old iniquity of slave representation continued in a new form, and in nearly double its former magnitude. This would be the consequence of the policy which we oppose. Before the war three-fifths of the slaves were represented by their masters. By the policy, the whole of them would be represented by the same persons, so that their rebellion would be rewarded with an increased power in the Government.

THE World persistently stigmatizes the National convention of Southern loyalists, called to assemble at Philadelphia on the 3d prox., as "The Mean White Convention," and says the Radicals of the XVIIIth Congress District of our State "resolved to send honorary delegates to the Northern and Southern Convention of mean Whites and sneaks."—N. Y. Tribune.

The World must have been taking lessons from Senator COWAN. That gentleman entertains only feelings of contempt for the white loyalists in the South, and is in the habit of so expressing himself. The "gentlemen" lately beaten so soundly in their attempt to overthrow the Government have his respect.

THE only loyal paper in New Orleans, the Tribune, has been suspended, in consequence of the threats of violence to the editor and printers. This is the condition of loyalty there. It is not safe for a loyal man to openly declare himself, and hundreds, because of their known sentiments, have been compelled to flee. How does this square with the professions of the Philadelphia Convention—put forth to deceive the North? Luckily the game of deception has had an early exposure.

"NO COMPROMISE WITH DUTY."—So said General SHERIDAN in New Orleans. It is a noble sentiment. Had it had a general prevalence in the country, how large an amount of our present troubles would have been avoided? And were it now adopted as the rule of action, how speedily and effectually would those troubles be removed.

TALK.—Dean Swift said "all plots begin in talk." We have in the party papers talk enough about "usurpation" to half convince a timid or credulous mind that the corresponding plot is brewing.

Senator Cowan's Apology.

To the Editor of the Commercial:

I have just finished reading in the COMMERCIAL of this morning my old personal and political friend's apology for his betrayal of his old friends and joining the Copperheads. With your permission, I shall give your readers some facts in regard to the antecedents of Edgar Cowan before his election as Senator. In the campaign of 1860, my old friend took an active part, and I should think spoke not less than fifty times to the people of Pennsylvania. The newspapers of that day were less enterprising than your journal of to-day, and hence we had not such full reports of the speeches of 1860 as you now give us. Senator Cowan bewails the radicalism of the late Congress. How stood he in 1860? I appeal to the recollection of the thousands who then heard him, if he was not the most radical speaker in Western Pennsylvania. I do not include Thaddeus Stevens, for he was not, so far as I now remember, in this section during that campaign. But perhaps our common friend, Thomas Williams may serve for the comparison. I, perhaps, heard half a dozen of the speeches of each of these distinguished gentlemen in 1860. My own recollection is, that Senator Cowan was a little more radical than Representative Williams in that campaign.

Senator Cowan, at the Court House in Washington, and the Lawrenceville Ox Roast, was fully two lengths ahead of the "negro in American politics"—as compared with Mr. Williams in his Lafayette Hall speech. I appeal to the thousands who listened to both these eloquent gentlemen in 1860, if I am not correct. Colonel McClure, the Chairman of the State Committee, was fully warranted in his statement that he deemed it unwise to send Edgar Cowan into the conservative districts of the State, owing to the extreme radical character of his speeches. That Mr. Stevens's ghost may haunt him now, I shall not dispute; but old Thad. and he might have slept in the same bed in the campaign of 1860, and then Mr. Stevens would have been called the conservative.

During the sixty days that intervened between the election of November, 1860, and the choice of United States Senator in January, 1861, the names of Messrs. Williams and Cowan were constantly canvassed in political circles. Mr. Cowan was always regarded as rather more radical on the slavery issues than was Mr. Williams. If, therefore, these gentlemen differ in 1866, one or the other of them has changed since 1860-61. We leave it to the thousands who heard them then to say which of them has changed.

Every well posted friend of Senator Cowan knows that during the early portion of his Senatorial career we were alarmed by the news from Washington that his intimate personal associates were Breckinridge, of Kentucky, Wigfall, of Texas, Bayard, of Delaware, and that class of men. This news reached us before the Bright case, referred to by him at length in his Greensburg speech. Since that time it is unnecessary for us to say that his speeches, his votes, and all his associations have been with Northern copperheads and Southern rebels. During the most dangerous crises of the war nine-tenths of all his votes are recorded with the men who sympathized with the rebellion. Not only so at Washington, but when at his home in Greensburg, he was the pet of the copperheads, and the terror of the friends of the Union.

He had no faith in the ultimate triumph of the Union armies, and has thousands of times declared that we could never conquer the united South. I have heard him declare again and again that the world's history never showed an example of eight millions of a united people being conquered, and that ultimately the General Government would have to compromise with the traitors in arms. Every associate he has in Greensburg knows this to have been the tenor of his daily conversation. He dare not deny it.

In the hotly contested campaigns of 1863 and 1864 he took no part, and never once appeared on the stump. It was notorious that he had advocates for his nomination, at Chicago, in August, 1864, for President or Vice President by the late Democratic party. His most intimate friends did not know, until the eve of the election, whether he would vote for Lincoln or McClellan, in November, 1864.

With such a record, which I dare his friends to gainsay, he comes before us at this time, and would make us believe that Thad. Stevens's radicalism has driven him and President Johnson into their present betrayal of the true Union party of the country. Now, we defy any of the friends of the Senator to show that they ever heard him give this reason until within the last few months. Mr. Stevens was always spoken of by him with the greatest respect, until the last Congress met. He never was heard to give this reason for his betrayal of his Republican friends until since the 22d of February last.

From the death of President Lincoln, until Senator Cowan's visit to Washington, in September or October, 1865, he always spoke unfavorably of the administration of Andrew Johnson. It was not until he was advised of his intended betrayal of the Union party that he ever became his champion. He then, with more frankness than wisdom, boasted that President Johnson would put down his foot on what he called the Radicals. From that date his denunciation of Mr. Stevens commences, and his new zeal for President Johnson bears date. Andrew Johnson only commended himself to Senator Cowan's regard—when, like him, he determined to betray the party that had elevated him to power.

I thus write to correct the history of the past four years. Senator Cowan's reasons for his conduct are on a par with the fact which he states that one million of blacks have perished within the last five years. Neither of these have the color of probability about them. B.

[From the Chicago Times.]

The Success of the Crosby Opera House Art Association.

The past week has been a fruitful one for this widely-spread enterprise. Our exchanges from every quarter are filled with notices of its success. Its advertisements, which are on a scale surpassing in general extent anything which has been attempted by even American enterprise before, occupy pages of the New York press. A correspondent, writing of its success in New York, says: "The office reminds me of a railroad ticket office a few minutes before the departure of the train."

The feeling of personal interest in Mr. Crosby seems to pervade the whole country. Every little town or village has its one or more clubs, and we understand that the rapid sale of certificates throughout the country is in a measure to be attributed to the cordial support of the National Banks, the Presidents and Cashiers of which are its most numerous and efficient agents.

Another large club has been organized here upon the plan of that of the express and telegraph men. It is to be composed exclusively of railroad and steamboat men. They have secured 1,000 certificates.

The pork-packers have also a club of 500 nearly filled. The Young Men's Association are forming a large club. The Chamber of Commerce club is full. Several Board of Trade clubs, holding a large number of certificates, have been filled, and others are in progress. An oil club is under way, likewise a dry goods club; and we hear that a large insurance club is nearly filled. A ladies' club a merchants' club of a thousand and an art gallery club, have been commenced, and we hear of many others. Activity in this line seems to increase with each week. These movements are rapidly taking up the certificates all over the country, and hastening the happy consummation of a scheme which has in it more interest, novelty and spirit than anything which has engaged public attention within our recollection.

N. B.—Responsible agents wanted in all towns and cities in which no appointments have as yet been made. For TERMS, ADDRESS the NEW YORK OFFICE.

NOTICE.

In ordering certificates, please name Engraving desired. If the Engraving is to be forwarded to insure its safety, enclose twelve cents in stamps for tubing. Send drafts, postoffice money orders, or greenbacks, with address of town, county and State carefully written, as every certificate is fully registered.

TO CIDER VINEGAR MANUFACTURERS—I desire to call the attention of Vinegar manufacturers to my "PATENTED SELF ACTING ACIDIFIER." They can be constructed of sizes to yield from 3 up to 50 barrels, 40 gallons each, of Vinegar per week.

The fermented cider is simply heated and changed into the Acidifier—it requires but little further attention until the Vinegar is completed, which will be in five to seven days. Cider Vinegar made by this process is of a much superior quality, and will keep better than when made by the old and tedious process, requiring one to two years to complete it. This Apparatus can be used as well for making Vinegar from Sorghum Molasses, or Corn Cobs, as from Cider. No distilled spirits are required in either case. I have a large Factory in operation in this city, which I will be pleased to exhibit. All communications addressed to me will receive due attention. BY SLEEPS THAT STILL AND PLACID SLEEP.

BY T. S. HENRY.

sleeps that still and placid sleep
For which the weary pant in vain,
And where the dews of evening weep,
I may not weep again;
Oh! never more upon her grave
Shall I behold the wild flower wave.

They laid her where the sun and moon
Look on her tomb with loving eye,
And I have heard the breeze of June
Sweep o'er it like a sigh;
And the wild river's wailing song
Grow dirge-like as it stole along.

And I have dreamt, in many dreams,
Of her who was a dream to me,
And talked to her by Summer streams,
In crowds and on the sea;
Till in my dreams she grew enshrined,
A young [illegible] of the mind.

'Tis years ago and other eyes
Have flung their beauty o'er my youth,
And I have hung on other sighs
And sounds that seemed like truth,
And loved the music which they gave,
Like that which perished in the grave.

And I have left the cold and dead
To mingle with the living crowd;
The [illegible] around my head,
My heart is growing old;
O for a refuge and a home,
With thee, dead Ellen, in thy tomb!

Age sits upon my breast and brain,
My spirit fades before its time,
But [illegible] all [illegible] again,
Los[illegible];
And thou art dearer in thy shroud
Than all the false and living crowd.

Rise, gentle vision of the hours,
Which go like birds that come not back—
And fling thy pale and funeral flowers
On memory's wasted track.
O for the wings that made thee blest,
To flee away and be at rest.

NNSYLVANIA IN THE PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION.

A Precious Set of Union Men.

correspondent of the New York Tribune ets the delegation from Pennsylvania to Convention with an expert hand. We e:

e Philadelphia Copper-Johnson Conven-, to meet on the 14th inst., will not fail to make effect upon the pending politi-ggle in Pennsylvania. It was intended he leaders who gave up the Democracy as a r to the Johnson office-holders and the un-ent rebels—the heroes of Memphis and Orleans—to revolutionize the existing r of political affairs, demoralize and divide Republican party, and give treachery an triumph in our State. The Democracy glad to surrender their distinctive organi-, apparently so long as they retained the ance with Clymer their candidate for Gov-. Indeed, they did so from well considered ives of policy, hoping thereby to escape the ding [illegible] they have won as a party du-four years of positive hostility to the ernment in war, and as positive in pathy with traitors. t while they viewed the shadow of their bitation to escape the reprobation of our people, they have preserved their reach-, and so there is no movement tensive to the dispassionate men of all par-as the proposed coalition between Hughes, rton and Woodward, of Pennsylvania, and ndigham and his followers, of Ohio, Hood his associates, of New York and Stephens his defiant rebel friends, from the home of llion. It has created a revulsion in popu-feeling that has made the leaders tremble, Clymer would be most grateful to any one could blot out the Philadelphia Convene Democratic wire-pullers were unwilling the people of the party elect the delegates. ough there was ample time, they were de-the privilege because they would, in many nces, have chosen men who would refuse ation with Wood, Vallandigham, Wood- and rebels from the South. The Execu- Committee of the State Convention—not three men in all—assumed to select the e delegation, and it bears upon its face the of a master rebel's hand. The three ex-ernors who led the list were all the friends aitors during the war. Porter was Govern-enty five years ago, and has since been in ace in his own party, but his fidelity to the h brought him into full fellowship again. as driven from Texas during the war, and emned both the right and the ability of the ernment to suppress the rebellion. Packer once right on the great question. He an-nized Brelavan on his Kansas policy, and l in the overthrow of the Brelavan party in 9, and both his Cabinet officers—Secretary ter and Attorney General Knox—have act-ith the Republicans. Packer went to me in and has since been ardently in sympathy the rebels in the war to overthrow the rnment. Bigler is well known. He was begleman of Buchanan in the Senate, and ounty (Clearfield), was conspicuous in draft, and the murder of Union officers during whole war. Woodward was defeated for rnor in 1863, and he attempted to defeat the against our armies immediately after his t, by deciding the Conscription Law un-itutional, but the people removed him by election of Judge Agnew, and the court re-ed to patriotism. James Campbell, of First District, President Pierce's ex-master General, and his colleague ge M. Wharton, the reflex of Wm. B., The Second district sends Dick Vaux, poetical rebel, with Wm. C. Patterson as iate. The Third district sends D. M. Fox John Robbins, Jr., two defeated candidates he Philadelphia Mayoralty, and positive erheads. The Fourth District sends ex-t Justice Lewis and Charley Browne. Lewis ded treason in legal technicalities as long could after the war commenced. He then ined into passive sympathy with Jeff. s. Charley Browne is a rotating politician netimes in Pennsylvania and occasionally elaware, where he alleges Union bayonets kept him out of Congress. The Fifth dis-has Co. Davis, a brave soldier, who was se-d the copperheads in after his return by omination for Auditor General last year, received a defeat to the tune of ninety odd sand as his reward. His colleague, Mr. bar, I do not know. The Sixth district has D. Styles, ex M. C., who opposed every ap-ation of men and money for the war, Wm. Jones, who was elected to Congress in ut was broken on the rack of Lecompton 8. He tried the service, but soon wearied of on his friends and resigned. The Seventh ict has Geo. G. Helper and John A. Mor-, both unknown to fame. The Eighth has Woodward, Judge in Berks, a nephew of Justice Woodward, and as traitorous in proclivities as his uncle. His colleague, Kisner, I do not know. Old Lancaster E. Hiester, a disappointed, wily politician, as the Whig nominee, was defeated for ress in 1854, and has since fallen into the of William B. Reed. H. M. North, his gue, is a Democratic lawyer, who occa-ally ornaments the Copperhead ticket as a didate for Congress against Thaddeus ns The Tenth District has Frank Hughes, pen and avowed secessionist during the and who publicly advocated dissolution as rable to war. His colleague Mr. Gloninger, the same persuasion. Judge Asa Parker Twelfth District is a moderate man, of wealth and little taste for politics. He is ted to help pay expenses. His colleague, fatter, and Messrs. Dana and Blanding of Twelfth District, are put in to compliment any third-rate politicians. Colonel Eut of Thirteenth District is a soldier, who has deluded by the hope of political honors. C. L. Ward, his colleague, is one of the politicians and most virulent Copper- of the State. He has never forgiven ford for her devotion to Theodore. Mr. and Mr. Alricks of this District could not a precinct with their united strength at a ary election. They are both lawyers and ed politicians. Ex-Attorney General and Judge Hepburn are down for the enth District. Your readers know Black's ion and tendencies well. Hepburn is like and a little more so, if possible. The enth District has William McLellan, a rela-of General McClellan, who from virulent itionism has got gradually around to the erheads. Colonel Schell, his colleague, is er speculator in New York and Philadel- and cares nothing for politics. He was the ical rival of the Hon. John Cessna in Bed-for some years; but, when the war broke Cessna stood by the Government and Schell ot. The Seventeenth District has Gen. Wm. win, a Colonel of the late war, who left the ce for its good, and a political adventurer has tried all parties with uniform failure. colleague is Mr. Pershing, a Democratic r of some prominence, who is devoted to dogmas of Hughes and Reel. Paslon t of the Eighteenth District was a el in the early part of the war, but left ervice as soon as the South was to be hurt, ever since has been a most violent oppo-of the war. His colleague is Mr. Gamble, labama Democratic Canal Commissioner, a consistent Copperhead. The Nine-h District has Mr. Galbraith, who aspires ubernatorial honors with ill success, and Leonard, whom I do not know. Colonel A. Calmont of the Twentieth District, was tant Attorney General under John S., and, although he was in the service dur-art of the war, he votes to declare his own are murder. He is now the Democratic idate for Congress, with the certainty of served best by some 1,500. His colleague, e Church, is an old politician of great ex-ions and many disappointments, but as A. H. Stephens on all leading ques-. General Foster, of the Twenty-first ict, was the Democratic candidate for Gov-in 1860, and was beaten for Congress in Mr. Wier, his colleague, is now the candi-for Congress against Covode, and will share r's fate. Both are Copperheads of the most oved pattern. Colonel Sweitzer of the ty-second District was a soldier, and votes with the men against whom he. He was disappointed in his promotions, Grant having outstripped him in the race, e naturally goes with the Copperheads. colleague is a respectable local politician. Cess, of the Twenty-Third District, is a pointed Democratic aspirant for Governor, ve been defeated in Convention. He ivil General, and goes the whole figure with arty. His colleague, Mr. Strwell, was in rvice under McClellan, and left it when was wanted at home. Jesse Lazear, of the ty-Fourth District, was in Congress in, and never cast a vote that was offensive f. Davis, and Mr. Hopkins, his colleague, e same in our State Senate.

s you have a hasty sketch of the packed ation from this State to the Philadelphia ention, and it is worthy of note that there t a man on the list who has made any repu-n save as a sympathizer with treason dur-e war. They will be fit associates for the bel Vice President Stephens, Gen. Dick r, Wood, Vallandigham & Co., and they ut swell the tide of Union victory in Octo-ext.

On motion of Wm. M. Hersh, Esq., it was resolved that City Hall be formally opened as headquarters on Tuesday evening next, by a grand rally, at which arrangements can be made for attending the Convention of the Southern Loyalists about to assemble in Philadelphia, and that the Committee on Speakers secure speakers, and the Committee on Music secure a band.

The Chairman, John W. Riddell, Esq., read a communication from L. Edwin Dudley, Chairman of the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Union, of Washington, D. C., asking for the co-operation of the Committee and to make arrangements for the holding of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention in this city on the 24th of September. The communication was received and filed.

General A. L. Pearson then offered the following:

Whereas, The Soldiers' and Sailors National Union have resolved to hold a National Convention at Pittsburgh, on Monday, September 24th; and as said Convention to some extent would conflict with the proposed Union Republican demonstration; Therefore

Resolved, That said Republican Mass Convention be indefinitely postponed.

Resolved, By the Union Republican Executive Committee that we extend a cordial welcome to the soldiers and sailors who will visit our city on that occasion, and, with a view to receiving these gallant men in a fitting manner, we respectfully request our fellow citizens to co-operate with us in all necessary measures in that behalf.

Resolved, That the Union Republican Headquarters be tendered to the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Union as a place of holding said Convention.

On motion the preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted.

On motion the thanks of the Committee were tendered to Messrs. Bayne & Shafer for the use of their office.

The Committee then adjourned to meet again at their headquarters at City Hall, on Tuesday afternoon next, at two o'clock.

Resolved, That all regular physicians and surgeons wishing to send pay patients, can do so by applying to any of the attending physicians or surgeons, except in urgent cases, when they can be taken immediately to the Hospital and admitted by the Sister Superior.

The following gentlemen constitute the medical staff for the year ending June 30th, 1867: D. McMeal, Jr., M. D., Silas N. Benham, M. D., B. J. Campbell, M. D., Joseph J. Gillagher, M. D., E. Donnelly, M. D., Surgeon.

Western Pennsylvania Military Academy.—We are requested to state that this institution will positively open at the time announced, September 11th, and parties contemplating placing pupils therein, should communicate forthwith with Colonel Lehman, box 135, Allegheny City, in order to insure places, in as much as the arrangements only admit of a certain number of cadets for the opening session. Circulars and other information may also be obtained at the office of W. A. Shinn, Esq., No. 129 Fourth street, Pittsburgh.

If teeth could speak they would often reproach their owners. "We cannot clean ourselves," would be the cry of many a neglected set, "and are going to ache and ruin, simply for the lack of a daily brushing with the fragrant Sozodont, the only known means of preserving us." But as the teeth cannot speak, the press must speak for them.

Special Caution.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has become so popular that various parties have put out articles calling them Mrs. Winslow's. Please take notice that the Mrs. Winslow of the Soothing Syrup is not connected with any other article.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Friday, August 24—P. M.

The New York quotations this forenoon do not indicate any change that is worthy of special remark. Governments yesterday were slightly weaker in consequence of a rumor that the Treasury proposed selling Five-Twenty Bonds in order to provide for the payment of the Temporary Loan Certificates. There was a slight decline in the 1865 bonds in consequence of this rumor. Gold is regarded completely under the control of the "bull" clique, and as the advance is purely artificial, it may drop any hour. The rate this forenoon was 150¼. For the other names the following were the morning quotations: Eighty-Ones, 111½; Five-Twenties, 110¾; Ten-Forties, 101¾; Seven-Thirties, 106¼; Michigan Southern, 86; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 88; Fort Wayne, 105; Erie, 74½; Chicago and Rock Island, 109½; Western Union Telegraph, 57½; Bennehoff (oil) 6¼; United States, 7½; Gregory, (gold) 19¾; Quartz Hill, 4¾; Parnassee, 8⅞. Michigan Southern at the afternoon Board fell off ½, and Rock Island holders were selling out at about morning quotations.

—Secretary McCulloch, being on a recent visit to his native New England, was invited to dine with the solid men of Boston. The letter failed to reach him till after his return to Washington; but on the 18th instant he responded, showing why he could not accept, and speaking of the national finances, he repeats his adherence to the early return to specie payments, as announced in his Fort Wayne speech. He says: "I do not, however, disguise the fact that great financial difficulties are still to be overcome; that our present prosperity is rather apparent than real; that we are measuring values by a false standard; that we are, in fact, exposed to all the dangers which attend an inflated and irredeemable currency, which diminishes labor—the true source of national wealth—and stimulates speculation and extravagance, which lead invariably to thriftlessness and demoralization. Before the country becomes again really prosperous, the specie standard must be restored, prices reduced, industry stimulated, the products of the country increased, the balance of trade between the United States and other nations cease to be against us—all the great interests of the country cared for and protected by wise and impartial legislation, and all sections of the country to be brought again into harmonious and practical relations with the General Government."

—The continued orders for United States bonds in London and on the Continent is surprising our bankers and brokers. It was universally conceded that the war in Europe would enhance the value of the gold-bearing securities of a nation far removed from the scene of active hostilities, and one which could not by any means become involved in the difficulties which for a time menaced all Europe. But now, when hostilities had come to an end, the demand for the bonds of the American Republic continues unabated. It seems that the Europeans have lost their faith in monarchical institutions; and prefer to trust only to the promises to pay of the United States.

—The Boston Post of yesterday says: Mining shares were active, the principal movement being in Copper Falls, Franklin, Hancock and Huron. Copper Falls was lively, 2,125 shares being sold, opening at 51, buyer 60, and selling up to 50½, regular, the closing sale being at 50, an advance of 2 since yesterday and 6 since last Friday. Franklin to-day showed increased strength, opening at 69, an advance of 1½ on the opening price yesterday, and advanced to 71¼, buyer 30, closing firm at 70, at the second board. "Excelsior" is inscribed upon the banner of the combination, and the "strange device" is now treated with much respect, even by those whose aims and inclinations prevent from giving countenance to it. Hancock opened strong at 32, but through the operation of a wheel within a wheel, it was suffered to subside 2 per cent., closing at 30 bid, 31 asked. The movement in Hancock continues to be puzzling to outsiders, and somewhat mysterious like the ways of Providence. There was quite a brisk movement in Huron to-day, nearly 1,000 shares being disposed of at improved rates. It opened at 18, sold up to 20½, buyer 60, and the closing sale at the Open Board was at 18 seller 10. Quincy continues to increase in strength, but the advance in price brings out but little stock. It opened this morning at 40½, an advance of 2½, and closed firm at the Open Board at 51 regular. Isle Royal was ½ better at the close. Pewabic opened at 42, but at the Open Board fell off to 41. Pittsburgh advanced 2, on a sale of five shares. St. Clair and Eagle River were steady. Concord advanced ½. Winthrop improved a little, selling up to 2. Astor was quite active at an advance. Washington was steady as before.

Allegheny Valley Railroad Bonds.—This security is fully justifying the expectation we predicted some days ago. We are gratified to announce that up to this time $1,700,000 of the $4,000,000 mortgage have been placed, and more satisfactory still is the fact that this sum of nearly two millions, has all been taken in Allegheny county. Indeed the favorable terms upon which they are offered, the handsome rate of interest and the ample security, have eradicated the prejudice so long existing here against railroad securities, and the most staid citizens are investing largely in these bonds. We are now confident that this work, so important to Pittsburgh, will soon be completed, and better still, when done, will be owned by Pittsburgh instead of eastern capitalists or some foreign corporation.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

Office of the Daily Commercial, Saturday, August 25, 1866.

Business, since our last, has presented but few changes worthy of notice, sales as a general thing being confined to lots to supply the wants of the jobbing trade. The receipts of Grain for some time have been large. Yesterday there was a perceptible falling off in most descriptions. The following are the amounts received by Rail: Wheat, 19 cars; Oats, 237 sacks; Corn, 4 car loads. These are among the lightest we have noticed for some time; the market was unsettled. Wheat was most fancied, this was, no doubt, owing to the speculative feeling in the West. The Wheat "corner" at Chicago is said to be a "big thing." Oats were not so much fancied; prices are drooping. Sales were made at a wide range of prices. Flour—The market was firm. The falling off in receipts by rail were large—501 bbls being all that arrived—holders were firm at the advance we have previously noticed. Apples were very dull. The report in regard to the unhealthiness of this fruit has prevented sales to any extent. The sales show a wide range in prices. Groceries—We continue to notice a firm market, with a good demand for jobbing purposes; prices have undergone no change. The market contains a fair supply. Bacon—Firmness continues to hold possession of salt meats, with a good demand for some purposes at rates that were current for the past three days. The stock on hand is very light. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

Flour—The market since our last has undergone no reportable change; there was a steady trade demand for lots to supply the wants of the home market; prices for the past three days have been uniform. The receipts yesterday were very light by rail, only reaching 500 barrels. The principal inquiry was for the better descriptions; the rates were as follows:—Extra family winter wheat, $12 50, 12 75@13 00—some fancy brands were held higher. Spring wheat was sold to a fair extent at $10 75, 11 25@11 50. Sales 150 barrels White Star at $12.

Seeds—The market has been dull for some time past; in fact the only inquiry was for flax, which is held at $2 90@3 00 per bushel.

Feed—Was in good demand at current rates. Middlings—Sales 5 tons, to arrive, $1 75; sales 1 car bran, $1 05; a lot of interior was sold at 75c per cwt; sales of 6 tons ship stuffs, $1 65 per cwt.

Salt—The market was firm under light supplies; sales were made from first hands at $2 62@2 65; sales from store, $2 75 per bbl.

Cheese—Our market contains an ample supply of the various descriptions that come under this head. Sales 30 bxs Western Reserve, 15@15½c; 25 do Hamburg, 16@16½c, and 20 do Goshen, 20@21c.

Eggs—The market was without any particular change. There was an increased demand for export, with further sales at 19@20c.

Dried Beef—The supply in the market is not large. Small sales were reported at 27c.

Lard—Was dull, the market being over supplied. We quote nominally at 21@22c.

Grain—The late advance in certain kinds of grain has improved the receipts. Wheat, however, maintains its firmness, holders manifesting no disposition to give way. The current rates were—spring, $2 25@2 30; winter, $2 60. Barley dull and not wanted. Prices nominal. Oats were offered at a large variety of prices varying from 45c to 49c, the sales at those ranges reaching 1,200 bushels. Rye—The market was inactive. The asking rates were 95@95c. Corn—Not much inquired for. We note sales of mixed at 76@80c.

Butter—The receipts have increased, leaving a good supply on the market. The speculative fever seems to have passed away. We note sales of packed at 24@26c; fresh roll 28@30c.

Mess Pork—The market has been without animation for some time. We quote nominally at $33 00@33 50 [illegible].

Bacon—The market yesterday was without change as regards prices or demand. The present stock is rapidly disappearing. The following are the rates: Shoulders, 17½@17¾c; sides, ribbed, 19½@20c; sugar cured [illegible] 25c. The sales at these figures reached 22,000 lbs in lots.

Hay—The market was steady but not very active. Sales 18 loads at the scales at $19 00@23 00; sales 1 car load on track at $20 00@22 00.

Lead—The market was steady with a fair demand at 11½@12c.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

Office of the Daily Commercial, Saturday, August 25, 1866.

The oil market continues in what may be termed an unsettled condition, dealers being pretty wide apart in their views. The stock of Crude oil in the market has been reduced to a small number of barrels. This puts the advantages of the market on the side of the holders or those who are fortunate enough to receive receipts by the river. Navigation to the oil regions is both expensive and difficult. The prospect of a rise is not very flattering. The nominal rates for Crude were 16@16½c in bulk with 5 cents additional added when packages were included. We learned of no sales yesterday above 16c for immediate delivery, although 16½c was obtained for next month. The river receipts of Crude were 1,204 bbls. The sales for furture delivery were moderately large; sales of 200 bbls bulk at 16c; we note sales of 3,000 bbls bulk, to be delivered the first rise, at 15½c. The purchaser, in order to seal the contract, paid a fair proportion of the purchase money. Sales of 250 bbls, first rise, 16½c; 800 bbls do bulk, first water, 16¾c; 100 do, terms withheld; sales 215 bbls on the spot, 16c; 500 bbls, including barrels, 20¾c.

Refined Oil—The market was firm, with a good demand. The sales were the largest we have noticed for some days. Among them were the following: 1,500 barrels bonded, S. O., November delivery, Philadelphia, at 45½c; sales 2,000 barrels bonded, Standard White, Philadelphia, November, B. O., 47c—the highest price we have noticed for some time; sales 1,500 barrels bonded, Light Straw, September, Philadelphia S. O., at 43½c; 500 barrels do, October, Philadelphia, at 44½c. Free dull and unchanged.

Exports of Breadstuffs from the United States to Great Britain and Ireland, and the Continent of Europe—Astonishing Decrease.

The following table exhibits the exports of breadstuffs from the United States to Great Britain and Ireland, and to the Continent, for the years named, ending September 1st, each year, except the present year, which is to August 18th, and consequently two weeks short of the full year:

	Flour, Bbls.	Wheat, Bush.	Corn, Bush.	Rye, Bush.
1862-'63	1,633,221	24,128,242	10,334,201	411,578
1863-'64	1,313,310	16,192,907	645,819	13,965
1864-'65	176,789	2,805,228	1,115,802	97,533
1865-'66	144,812	1,294,469	13,018,644	234,914
Total in 4yrs	3,248,132	44,430,846	25,114,496	758,030

It will be seen that the exports for the year ending September 1st, 1863, were nearly one and a half million barrels of flour more than we have exported from the 1st of last September to August 18th, 1866, and of wheat, the export of the present year falls nearly twenty-three million bushels below the export of 1862-63. If we take the export of flour for the last two years, (which was 321,601 barrels), and compare it with the two years previous, (which was 2,926,531 barrels), we find a falling off in export of over two and one half million barrels.

The falling off in the export of wheat will appear more striking, by a comparison of the amount exported the last two years, (which was 4,099,697 bushels), with the export of the two previous years, (40,331,149 bushels), we find the falling off to amount to more than thirty six million bushels.

There has been an increase in the export of corn, the past year exceeding that of 1862-63, two and a half million bushels. The shipment for the year ending September, 1864, was only a little more than half a million of bushels and for the year 1865 but a little more than one million bushels. The export of the last year exceeding the two previous ones more than eleven million bushels.

Of these exports Great Britain and Ireland received:

	Flour, Bbls.	Wheat, Bushels.	Corn, Bushels
1862-63	1,412,021	21,805,002	10,265,244
1863-64	1,216,381	15,874,118	633,314
1864-65	156,188	2,711,113	1,104,317
1865-66	137,526	1,228,466	12,981,980
Total	2,922,116	41,708,699	24,987,855

The above tables show that during the last four years, of our exports to Europe, of Breadstuffs, Great Britain and Ireland took all the flour but 326,016 barrels; all the wheat, but 2,722,147 bushels, and all the corn, but 126,641 bushels.

It is curious to observe, that the import returns of Great Britain, Ireland, and Scotland, for the month of June last, show for the first time, probably, no importation of wheat from the United States, and only 1,623 cwts. of flour.

In view of the immense and astonishing decrease in the amount of Breadstuffs, which Great Britain now receives from the United States, compared with the quantity she received in 1862—63—64, it may be of general interest to show from whence she is now receiving it. The import returns of the United Kingdom, for the six months ending June 30th 1866, show the following:

	Wheat, cwt.	Flour, cwt.
Russia	3,649,398
Prussia	3,193,193
Denmark	148,615
Schleswig, &c.	73,767
Mecklenburg	302,225
Hanse Towns	313,791	130,332
France	2,683,389	2,713,046
Turkey, Wallachia & Mold'a.	295,973
Egypt	7,012
United States	315,160	164,785
British North America	8,780	6,142
Other countries	2,045,714	120,299
Total	11,598,676	3,134,484

Stock of Cotton in New Orleans.

The New Orleans Price Current of August 18th, says:

The stock of cotton in the city on Monday, the 13th inst., as found on careful investigation, was 115,821 bales. The amount was ascertained by actual count in all the presses with but three exceptions, and in these the figures were taken from the books of the press, which are no doubt entirely reliable. According to our running account, the stock on that day was 79,551 bales, showing a difference of 36,270 bales, which we add to our tables. It is just about a year since we last took account of the stock. At that time 73,550 bales were on hand, and since then 820,815 bales have been received, against 214,548 bales received last year during the same period. We allow the quantity exceeding the amount called for by our running account to have been made up from loose, waste and damaged cotton, pickings samples, &c.

New York Finance and Trade

Gold Closed at 148 3-8.

Special Dispatch to Western Press.

New York, August 24, 1866.

THE MONEY MARKET.

Remains easy. There is a persistent effort making on the part of speculators for a fall at the Stock Exchange to depreciate the National Bank currency. False reports of sales at a discount of ¼@1 per cent. are made to influence the market, but as yet the highest discount submitted to is 1-10 to ⅛ per cent. and this only in a few instances.

THE GOLD MARKET

Closed at 148¾a148⅜. Cash gold was easier towards the close, and loaned at ¼a⅛ per cent. There have been some few sales to-day on the part of the bull clique, and the price was run down to bring in more short sellers. There have been orders for gold sent to the other side as yet by any bankers.

THE EXCHANGE MARKET

Is very unsettled by the corner in the gold market, and there has been another decline. Good prime bankers' bills at 60 days have been done at 106⅞a108⅞, and short sight at 107a107¼.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES

Were in good demand, and there was a tendency at the close towards still higher prices. The following were the closing prices: 5-20s, 1865, 108¾a108⅞; 10-40 coupons, 101⅞a102¼; June 7-30s, 106a106¼.

THE STOCK MARKET

Was hammered at the last open board, and lower prices were made throughout the call. After the session there was a decline in Erie to 72⅜a72¾, and the general market was heavy.

PETROLEUM AND MINING SHARES.

The market for petroleum and mining shares was dull and steady.

By Associated Press.

New York, August 24.—Money steady at 5a6 per cent. for call loans. Sterling dull at 107a107¾. Gold irregular, unsettled and lower, opening at 150½, declining to 148¾, and closing at 148⅜. Governments without decided change. Freights to Liverpool dull.

The Commercial's money article says: The matter of chief interest in Wall street is the cornering. The shorts are still having to pay ¼a⅜ per day for loans, and with no prospect of alleviation for nearly the entire supply of gold appears to be in the hands of a bull combination, who can run up the premium as they please. The exchange market is deranged by the peculiar condition of gold. During the last two or three days holders of bills have been anxious to sell in order to lend the proceeds in gold at the current high rate of interest, which has caused a depression of rates. The best bankers bills having sold as low as 108¾. On the other hand, importers are reluctant to buy exchange at the present price of gold. Good bankers' 60 days' sterling has been sold as low as 106¾. The stock market shows more activity. The whole course of speculation is for higher prices, which, it is supposed, will be realized without difficulty when the temporary loan has been liquidated. Liberal outside orders are given, in expectation of a grand advance next week. There is a demand from strong parties, and sold this morning at 74¼c, closing at 74. Northwestern is again firmer. Governments are quiet but firmer, prices being ¼a⅜ better. The decline in 7-30s has brought in the market new buyers, and the second and third series sold at ⅛ advance. The rate on call loans vary widely, according to the kind of collateral. It is not easy to borrow on Government or stock collateral. Some firms can borrow on Government or stock, collateral at 4 per cent. Discounts are fairly active at 5a6½ per cent. for prime names.

New York, August 24—At the 4 o'clock open board the following were the principal sales: Ohio and Mississippi certificates, 28½; Quicksilver, 55½; Mariposa preferred, 27½; Western Union Telegraph, on Reading, 111½; Illinois Central ex dividend, 124; Chicago Rock Island and Pacific, 109½; Chicago and North Western Railroad, 36½, do preferred, 68; Marietta and Cincinnati first preferred ex dividend, 42¾.

New York, August 24—Stocks quiet; gold 148, Fort Wayne, 104½, Alton and Terre Haute 49½; preferred 71½; Rock Island 109¼; Northwestern, 36; do preferred 69½; Michigan Southern 86¼; Illinois Central 114; Reading 113½; Erie 73¾; New York Central 104; Pacific Mail, 226½; 5-20 coupons, 1864, 107¾; 10-40 coupons 102; Ohio and Mississippi, 28; Mariposa preferred, 27¾; Cumberland, 47.

The Post says: Money article says: Gold is scarce and 1 per cent. is paid for del very. The selling price, however, is lower than it was yesterday. The loan market is easy at 5 per cent. Discounts are firm. The stock market opened strong, but closed dull. Governments are rather better, with a disposition to sell, and large amounts are coming from the country. After the board New York Central sold at 103¾, Erie 73¼.

Leni Leoti	Hamilton	Wheeling.

The River.—Last evening at twilight the marks indicated about 33 inches, and about at a stand. The weather during the day was changeable, with occasional showers.

The locks in the Monongahela having been repaired, the boats now run through to Geneva.

The Wheeling and Parkersburg packet for this day is the steamer Forest City, Captain Gordon. This boat has excellent accommodations, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers.

The People's Line of Packets.—These boats now leave their wharf-boat daily, except Sundays, at 5 p. m. The line is composed of two of the finest side-wheel steamers that ever turned head up that stream. The Elector is in charge of Captain E. Phillips. The Chieftain is in charge of Captain R. R. Abrams. She leaves their wharf, at the foot of Grant street, this day at 5 p. m. We take pleasure in recommending one and all.

The truth will leak out occasionally. We find the following in the Louisville Courier, of Tuesday:

"The Sam. Roberts is proving to be the most regular and punctual of the towboat fleet, and her owners are commendable for their enterprise. She has made a successful run on every rise."

The towboat Sam. Roberts was built at Pittsburgh. Had the Courier man been aware of that the above paragraph would never have appeared in that paper.

The Slackwater Navigation.—The repairs on Lock No. 2 having been completed, the packets yesterday resumed their through trips. The United States Mail, old line, superintended by Commodore Jacobs, will run two packets per day. The morning boat leaves their wharf boat at 8 A. M.; the evening boat at 5 p. m. During the repairs at the locks these boats were placed in complete order; in fact the Franklin and Telegraph look just like new. This company has a new and magnificent steamer in a forward state. She will be placed on the track this fall. Who will take charge of her we have not yet learned. We don't think it would be difficult to name the fortunate individual. The old line boats are commanded as follows: Fayette, Captain M. A. Cox; Gallatin, A. S. Carlisle; Franklin, George W. Clark, and Telegraph, J. Bugher.

Cincinnati.

August 23.—We condense the following from the Enquirer:

The weather yesterday was clear during the morning, but cloudy and wet during the afternoon, with indications of heavy rains during the night. The atmosphere has turned quite cool; the thermometer at two P. M. stood at seventy degrees.

The river at this point last evening was again falling, with about twelve feet water in the canal. There is now plenty of water in the channel hence to Louisville.

There is seven feet reported in the Mississippi from Cairo to Memphis, with trouble at Plumb Point; also, the bar at Island 34 is reported getting bad.

Business on the landing yesterday was very good, especially in Memphis shipments, with considerable amounts of New Orleans freight offering, but at low rates.

The Kate Robinson came in from Memphis, and after discharging her cargo left for the docks last evening, where she goes to make some slight repairs.

Drowned.—David Madden, mate of the Rose Hambleton, was drowned at Peckinpaugh's Island, near Hawkins' Landing. He was a resident of Gallipolis, Ohio.

The Commercial of the same date says:

Boats in Port.—The Emperor, Minneola, Rose Hambleton, Darling and Fairy Queen, are the only boats in port.

Col. Bart. G. Leipper is out again, having almost recovered from his recent serious illness.

James P. Casey, who has been engaged in coopering for the Louisville United States Mail Line during the past twenty years, died of cholera on Tuesday, after twelve hours sickness. He was well known in river circles.

At a meeting of the Mates' Benevolent Association, held on Tuesday, the following gentlemen were elected to serve for the ensuing year: W. B. McDonald, President; A. Norton, Vice President; W. R. Dodson, Secretary; J. R. Harrison, Treasurer; Andy Wilson, B. C. Norton, J. Martin, J. H. Prim and R. Sheridan, Trustees.

Special telegrams from St. Louis report the Missouri rising, and the steamers Marion and Pocahontas, recently sunk on that stream, a total loss. The John Kilgour, from St. Louis for New Orleans, passed Memphis yesterday. The David White is reported unloading at Memphis, preparatory to going on the docks.

Evansville, August 22.—The weather was clear and warm this morning. It is now cloudy and cool, with indications of rain.

The river has risen one foot since last night, and is rising rapidly.

The following are our port list: Mary Swan, Louisville to Cairo; Lorena, Cincinnati to New Orleans; Mariner, Cincinnati to Memphis; Mary Irwin, St. Louis to Cincinnati, Phantom to Cairo.

The Mary Swan has been aground at Flint and French Islands since Saturday. She got off yesterday, and has at last come through.

The Lorena and Mariner had good trips.

The Mary Irwin is loading with empty oil barrels.

The Phantom had all she wanted.

More Steamboat Law.—It will be seen by the following to the Evansville papers that the inspectors have adopted a new lock safety-valve which the late law of Congress requires all boats to use. They went all the way to Boston to get it, to increase the expenses of the boatmen:

"Sir: Congress on the 28th of July passed a steamboat bill, the [illegible] section of which requires a lock safety-valve, to be approved by the Supervising Inspector, to be placed on every steamboat boiler.

"The Supervising Board of Inspectors anticipating the passage of this law, held a meeting at Boston, Massachusetts, and resolved to adopt one uniform valve or valves.

"The valve or valves that will be used must be placed on all boats as soon as they can be procured.

"The 3d section of the law also requires a water-gauge on every boiler. This will have to be complied with as soon as they can be procured. Yours, truly,
"J. V. Guthrie,
"Supervising Inspector 8th District."

St. Louis.

August 22.—A telegram from St. Joseph says the Gallatin, from Fort Benton, July 30, arrived down last night. She passed the wreck of the Marion eighty miles below Benton, and the wreck of the Pocahontas sixty miles below Randall, both boats are totally lost. The Luella was aground on the bar five miles below the Yellowstone. Met the Only Chance below Sully, and the Antelope below Randall. A rise of five feet was coming out of the Yellow Stone. The Gallatin had 250 passengers and $250,000 in gold.

There has been a rapid decline at St. Paul. All the Upper Mississippi is falling down to Keokuk, and stationary below. The Illinois is stationary, and the Missouri likewise. There may be 8 feet hence to Cairo on the worst bars, but it will be less before long.

Business was fair on the wharf. Weather cool and pleasant.

The departures include the W. H. Osborn for New Orleans with a good cargo.

Sinking of the Steamer Marion.—The stern-wheel steamer Marion, bound to this port from Fort Benton, struck a rock about sixty miles below the Fort and sunk. The boat will prove a total loss; the boilers and engines, with the cabin furniture and out-fit, have been gotten out and landed on the bank. The Marion was owned by Captain William Shanks, her commander, M. W. Aker, C. W. Sombart and William M. McPherson, and was valued at $35,000, and insured for $10,000 in Eastern agencies.

BANKS AND BANKERS.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company,) Capital $500,000, paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.
The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the Act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c., to receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.
The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.
Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.
The business will be conducted by the same officers and Directors.
